This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

+ Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.

+ Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.

+ Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.

+ Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

PREFACE.

The idea of the National Newspaper Directory and Gazetteer, (successor to Pettingill & Co.'s Newspaper Directory), of which the present volume is the 7th annual edition, is a comprehensive survey of the newspaper field of the United States—complete, accurate and exhaustive.

The value of a Newspaper Directory consists first in the accuracy and extent of the information it gives; and second, in such an arrangement as will make the information most useful to the advertiser.

The Gazetteer matter in this edition fulfills its part of this purpose more completely than any other publication—even works specially called Gazetteers, and is the result of an exhaustive research of every place touched.

We aim to furnish pen pictures, in conjunction with maps, which shall enable advertisers to form a correct estimate of the advertising possibilities of each particular section of the country.

The system of circulation ratings adopted is also designed to aid intelligent and well directed advertising; and, we believe, comes nearest to affording a clear way through the labyrinth of doubt and confusion in which other systems have involved the subject.

The next edition of the National Newspaper Directory and Gazetteer, on which work has already commenced, will be issued early in 1900 and besides being revised and corrected up to date will have many new and valuable features added, which have never before been incorporated in a work of this character, all intended to enhance its usefulness both as a Directory and as a Gazetteer.

Something About Pettingill & Co.

Established Over Half a Century.

WE are the oldest Newspaper Advertising Agency in the United States. It can be fairly said that our history is the history of advertising in this country, and our list of customers and volume of business entitle us to first place among advertising agencies today.

Our distinguishing characteristic has been the ability to keep our customers. Very rarely have we lost one that it was desirable to retain. The first advertising ever done by Dr. Wilbor, the proprietor of Wilbor's Cod Liver Oil, was placed by this house in 1850, and up to the time of Dr. Wilbor's death, which occurred recently, Pettingill & Co. have handled the business. The first newspaper advertising done for the proprietors of Hoyt's German Cologne and Rubifoam was placed by Pettingill & Co., and we have continued to place all of the advertising of this firm up to the present. Vegetine was advertised in the seventies by this house. Hunt's Remedy was another old-time medicine made famous by this agency, and Dr. Greene's Nervura, now so celebrated, was built up largely by the aid of newspaper work done through Pettingill & Co.

Curtis Davis & Co., makers of Welcome Soap, have for years employed us, as have Chase & Sanborn, the great Seal Brand Coffee merchants. We have assisted in building up the magnificent success attained by the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., due to its newspaper advertising. Ivorine, built up by newspaper advertising, owes its prominence also to the work of this agency, and the same can be said of Comfort Powder and Williams' Root Beer.

We are now extensively employed by the owners of Mellin's Food, Dr J. C. Ayer's Plasters, Winchester Repeating Arms, Londonderry Lithia Water, Nestor Cigarettes, Dr. Hartman's Pe-ru-na, Booth's Hyomei, H. O. Hornby's Oatmeal, Moxie, Regal Shoes.

The owners of Carter's Little Liver Pills for several years have employed Pettingill & Co. to place business for them. Beardsley's Shredded Codfish was advertised into prominence by this agency. Wood, Bishop & Co., Stoves, Bangor, Me., is another of our old customers, as are also J. H. W. Huckins & Co., makers of Huckins' Soups, the Gurney Heater Manufacturing Company, Seth W. Fowle & Sons, makers of Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry, A. P. Bush & Co., agents Bovinine, and Buchanan & Lyall, of B-L Tobacco fame. Some of the many other commodities and firms advertised through the work of this agency are Bowker's Fertilizer, Stickney & Poor, Loring & Co., H. H. Carter, Bemis Eye Sanitarium, Adamson's Cough Balsam, Angier's Petroleum Emulsion, Warwick Cycles, Sterling Ale, Green Mountain Renovator, Lincoln Spring Water, Blackstone Cigars, Comfort Powder, Torry Razor Strops, Vinol, Shaw Stockings, Semit Tablets, Minard's Liniment, Lablanche Face Powder, Glenwood Ranges, Heywood Shoes, Kozy Camera, Baird-North Company, L. P. Hollander & Co., United States Rubber Company, Edison Electric Illuminating Company, Youth's Companion, Worcester Salt, the total amounting to millions of expenditure annually.

Policy and Methods.

Our policy is to study the character of the business that we are expected to advertise, and then to lay plans for the work that will result in success of a permanent kind; in other words, we act as advisers and promoters, and not mere handlers of the advertising. No matter how small a beginning is made by a customer, we recognize that all great enterprises have begun that way, and are as ready to undertake the work as if it were of greater proportions. Much of our success has been due to this ability to built up small advertisers. The character of a business, the possibilities of results that may accrue to it from advertising, the kind of advertisements suitable for it, the mediums that reach the people who are most likely to be interested in the announcements, are some of the special points on which this house is able to furnish valuable advice. Special knowledge of how, when and where to do advertising, as well as the facilities for taking care of the many details incidental to the handling of the business, are part and parcel of our well conducted advertising agency. The peculiarities of the publishing business, the technical and mechanical knowledge of printing, engraving, electrotyping, and the methods employed by publishers in locating and handling advertisements,—all of these things are as an open book to the well equipped agency, and this knowledge means the saving of much time and expense to an advertiser; in fact, it is indispensable. Expert talent, thorough experience, sound judgment and complete facilities are in our possession; the growth of our business in the face of great competition is the strongest proof of this fact. The kind of advertising that makes a market for the thing advertised and that results in profit to the advertiser is the kind that we profess to know how to do.

It may be added that newspapers extend many privileges and favors to a house doing the vast volume of business of Pettingill & Co. not usually granted in ordinary cases.

The Firm.

The firm consists of two gentlemen, Mr. Ubert K. Pettingill and Mr. James T. Wetherald, both fitted by a life time of training and experience to successfully create and conduct a business of the magnitude of that herein described.

The headquarters of Pettingill & Co. were at 10 State street for over forty years—from 1849 to 1891. In the latter year they were moved to 22 School street. The new quarters were considered by the firm large enough to accommodate the natural growth of business for a long period, but at the end of four years they were found to be much too small, and arrangements were made to lease the entire building above the street floor and to have the interior remodeled. Just after these plans were completed, the owners of the S. R. Niles Advertising Agency decided to sell the business, and it was offered to its contemporary and long-time competitor, Pettingill & Co., who purchased it Jan. 1, 1896, after which the changes referred to were made in the building, and some of the results are shown in the illustrations accompanying this article.

The Checking-room.

From the main floor an oak staircase leads to the floor above, which is occupied by the checkers. Here a system of checking may be seen in operation, so perfect in its workings that at a second's notice an advertiser can be shown in which papers his advertisement has been printed, how many times it has appeared, and what position in the columns it has occupied.

On this floor is also the private consulting room of the firm and the bookkeeping department.

The Filing-room.

On the third floor are the files. Here thousands of newspapers are kept stored in many cases, but all within instant reach. The files of each paper with which this house places advertisements are kept for three months, so that the advertisers may without loss of time and the least possible trouble satisfy themselves that newspapers are publishing their advertisements according to contract.

New York Office.

The New York office, 120 Broadway, was established in September, 1894, and it at once begun to assume an individuality and strength quite in keeping with the standing and progress of the parent establishment.

The New York office handles the advertising of one hundred and twenty-five firms and individuals, some of them local and others covering the entire country. Among them are Lord & Taylor, Equitable Life Assurance Co., Booth's Hyomei, J. W. Goddard & Sons (Fibre Chamois), Barbour Bros., (Threads), American Dunlop Tire Company, Crawford Mfg. Company (Crawford Bicycles), Heminway & Son's Silk Company, Wing & Sons (Wing Pianos), Wyckoff, Seaman & Benedict (Remington Typewriter), Western Wheel Works (Crescent Bicycles), Bridgeport Gun Implement Company, Mutual Reserve Fund Life Association, Dr. I. W. Lyon (Tooth Powder),—a remarkable record of growth.

REPORTS AND RATINGS.

It is the aim of the publishers of the National Newspaper Directory and Gazetteer to report and rate correctly every legitimate publication issued in the United States, and if there are errors or omissions it is because we have been unable to secure the necessary information from the publishers. Immediately upon the completion of one volume, work is commenced upon the revision of the succeeding issue. Blank circulars are prepared and mailed (about July 1st) to every publication rated in the previous edition, as well as to such new ones as may have been established. These circulars contain the report and circulation statement as it appeared in the last edition, and the publisher is requested to make such corrections as may be necessary.

CIRCULATIONS.

In the matter of circulation ratings we aim to be absolutely fair to both publisher and advertiser, and under no consideration will a publication be rated differently from the rules laid down below or from the statements sent in. Our definition of the word circulation, as applied to newspaper ratings is embodied in the following paragraph:

> The circulation of a publication is the number of complete copies printed to supply its subscribers, newsboys, office sales, and such sample copies or such special editions as are legitimately used for the purpose of securing new subscribers, and with all the advertisements usually contained in the regular edition. Returned, spoiled and unsold copies should be deducted.

Under our system of ratings a circular is sent to the publisher of every newspaper or magazine, with a request for a circulation statement. The replies received are divided into four classes and the publication is rated in the class and in accord with the statement furnished, thus:

FIRST CLASS.—The publication for which we receive a Sworn Detailed Statement for a full year next previous to Sept. 1st, is rated first class. Such ratings are indicated by a fig. 1 in a circle immediately preceding the circulation figures, thus: ①18700.

SECOND CLASS.—The publication for which we receive a sworn statement (not detailed) for a full year next previous to Sept. 1st, is rated second class. Such ratings are indicated by a fig. 2 in a circle immediately preceding the circulation figures, thus: ②18700.

THIRD CLASS.—The publication for which we receive a detailed statement (not sworn to) for a full year next previous to Sept. 1st, is rated third class. Such ratings are indicated by a fig. 3 in a circle immediately preceding the circulation figures, thus: ③18700.

FOURTH CLASS.—The publication for which we receive an unsupported statement for a full year next previous to Sept. 1st, claiming a certain circulation, is accorded the circulation claimed, and is rated as fourth class. Such ratings are indicated by a fig. 4 in a circle immediately preceding the circulation figures, thus: ④18700.

FIFTH CLASS.—A fifth class rating is accorded in case no statement or claim is furnished by the publishers. These ratings are the estimate of the editior of the directory, based on such information or knowledge as he may possess.

EXPLANATION.

The arrangement of this work is so simple as scarcely to require an explanation or even a table of contents. However, since it differs so materially from previous editions, and from other works of a similar nature, we feel that a few words regarding the various features and their arrangement, would perhaps add to its usefulness, and carry out to a further degree our efforts to produce the most useful work of the sort published.

The figures immediately following the names of towns give the population of the city or village, except in the case of very small places where the population of the whole township is given; when this is done, the abbreviation (twp.) appears.

County seats are indicated by an asterisk (*) immediately following the name of the place.

The abbreviations used for the railroads are those ordinarily used by railroad people in their folders and guides.

In every case the bank having the largest capital is the one indicated.

The best (highest price) hotel is usually given, except in the larger cities where a "commercial" or popular priced house is given.

The populations given for the towns are from the government census reports of 1890; except in such states as have since issued a census; the county populations are wholly from the government reports of 1890.

The maps will be found to contain nearly every place in the text and certainly every one of importance.

The following abbreviations are used in newspaper reports: Ind.—Independent; Dem.—Democratic; Rep.—Republican; Pop.—Populist; Non-Pol.—Non-Political; Circ.—Circulation; 8p—8 pages.

Papers given as Morning or Evening are issued from Monday to Saturday, inclusive; Sunday and Weekly editions are rated separately; papers issuing both a Morning and Evening edition, with an advertising rate covering both are given as Morning and Evening; weekly and semi-weekly editions are indicated by giving the day or days of publication.

ALABAMA.

Capital, Montgomery. Settled at Mobile bay by Frenchmen in 1702. Population 1,513,017. Area, 52250 sq. miles. Acres of farm land, 18,855,000; value of farm land, $79,000,000; annual value of farm products, $57,000,000. State debt, $11,992,619. Vote in 1896: Dem. 107,137; Rep. 54737; Pop. 24089; Gold Dem. 6462; Pro. 2147.

Alabama is bounded on the north by Tennessee; on the east by Georgia; on the south by Florida and the Gulf of Mexico and on the west by Mississippi. From the mountains in the northeastern portion, the surface gradually slopes southward, except in the Tennessee valley, and all the middle and southern sections are low and level. The state is drained by the Tennessee river in the north, by the Alabama and Tombigbee in the centre and southwest and by the Chatahoochee in the southeast. In the Tennessee valley is the great cereal belt of the state; vast stores of iron and coal are found in the mountainous northeast; south of there is an immense tract of fertile soil stretching away across the state and known as the Black belt, where immense crops of cotton are raised; and all along the coast are sandy plains known as the Piney woods region, where are great forests of pine, magnolia, sweet bay, live oak and cypress. Lumber, rosin and turpentine are exported from this region. Agriculture furnishes employment to 400,000 people, on 140,000 farms, valued at $80,000,000. Over 700,000 bales of cotton and 40,000,000 bushels of cereals are produced on the farms every year and the total annual value of the farm products is $57,000,000. Iron and coal are found in immense quantities in the mineral region and what is of the greatest advantage, near together. The production of pig-iron has increased in the last decade till there are 50 blast furnaces annually producing 1,000,000 tons of pig-iron and in this business Alabama ranks next to Pennsylvania and Ohio. Granite and many different varieties of marble are found in profusion, as well as slate and limestone. Within a few years the state has made rapid strides in manufactures, till now it is becoming more of a manufacturing than an agricultural state. The principal manufactured products include iron and steel goods, cars, iron pipes and drains, flour and grist mill products, cotton goods and sawed lumber. Alabama has 66 counties and newspapars are published in all. The principal cities and towns are: Mobile, Birmingham, Montgomery, Anniston, Selma, Huntsville, Florence, Pratt Mine, Gadsden and Bessemer.

In making up lists for use in the State of Alabama, advertisers should not fail to make use of the following Newspapers, which are reliable in every sense of the word and of proven advertising worth. In their advertisement further on in this volume specific information is given concerning each one. As the authorized representative of each of the papers recommended we shall be glad to furnish all information and to receive advertising orders for them.

Capital, Phœnix. Settled near Tucson by Spaniards in 1685. Population, 59691. Area, 113,020 sq. miles. Acres of farm land, 135,513; value of farm land, $1,127,946; annual value of farm products, $614,327. Territorial debt, $769,000. Vote in 1896: Dem. 6065; Rep. 4090; Pop. 3896.

Arizona is bounded on the north by Utah; on the east by New Mexico; on the south by Mexico and on the west by Nevada and California. This territory was once the home of the cliff dwellers and many of their villages, canals and other works remain. It has been the home of fierce bands of Indians for centuries, particularly the Apaches, and there are several reservations within the territory at present. Lofty mountains sweep diagonally across the territory, in several parallel ranges, the general direction being toward the northwest. The highest are the San Francisco mountains, in the north, (12000 feet) and the loftiest peak, Mount San Francisco (12561 feet). The northern portion is dotted with volcanic mesas, from 3000 to 7500 feet high. The territory is drained by the Colorada and Gila rivers. The former has worn its way through the plateau of the northwest, forming the Grand Canon of the Colorado, the world's greatest gorge and one of its most marvelous scenic features. The Canon is 220 miles long and varies in depth from 1000 to 7000 feet. There are numerous plateaus, cross gorges and buttes and the ever varying succession of these features, with the dazzling arrays of colors presented by the different strata of rock render it picturesque and beautiful beyond comparison. Chalcedony Park in the northeastern part of the territory is a tract of 2000 acres, covered with fragments of petrified trees, in a variety of beautiful colors. A variety of precious stones are found here and many have been sent east to be finished. In Tonto Basin there is a natural bridge of limestone 1000 feet long, 200 feet high and 400 feet wide. There are many natural wells in Arizonia, of which the most famous is Montezuma, 55 miles northwest of Prescott, 600 feet across and 100 feet deep. The pure, dry, warm air of Arizona makes it the nation's sanitarium for lung troubles. The mineral resources of the territory are extensive and the leading industries are mining, smelting, crushing and milling the ores. The silver veins at Tombstone have yielded $33,000,000 since 1878 and the annual output for the territory is $5,000,000. The annual production of copper is $4,000,000. The principal copper mines are at Clifton, Bisbee and Globe. Considerable progress in agriculture has been made by means of irrigation on the plains south of the Gila. Wheat and clover are produced and a great variety of vegetables, fruits and berries. Arizona has 1,000,000 head of cattle. There are ten counties and newspapers are published in all. The principal towns are: Tucson, Phœnix, Tombstone, Prescott, Globe, Nogales, Tempe, Florence, Flagstaff and Yuma.

IF you want to advertise consult Pettingill & Co. The oldest newspaper advertising agency in America. "50 years of uninterrupted success." If you have the right advertisement and put it in the right papers, at right prices, your advertising will pay.

ARKANSAS.

Capital, Little Rock. Settled at Arkansas Post by Frenchmen in 1685. Population, 1,125,385. Area, 53850 sq. miles. Acres of farm land, 12,061,541; value of farm land, $74,240,655; annual value of farm products, $45,000,000. State debt, $13,309. Vote in 1896: Dem. 110,103; Rep. 37512; Nat. 893; Pro. 889.

Arkansas is bounded on the north by Missouri; on the east by Missouri, Tennessee and Mississippi; on the south by Louisiana and Texas and on the west by Texas and Indian Territory. The state is mountainous in the northern and western parts and low and level in the eastern and southern portions. The Mississippi river on the eastern boundary, the Arkansas extending across the middle portion of the state from the west, the White, between these two and their branches, drain the state and furnish 3250 miles of navigable water ways. A great number of medicinal springs are found in the state. The most important are the Hot Springs, 55 miles southwest of Little Rock. Here, in a narrow valley, a city of 12000 has grown up with a number of fine hotels and bathing establishments and 10000 visitors annually. The climate of this region has been called the "Italy of America." No state in the Union is so exclusively agricultural as Arkansas. Eighty three per cent of the inhabitants work on over 100,000 farms. The principal products are cotton, sweet potatoes, tobacco, corn, wheat, oats, hay, molasses, sorghum, honey, wine, apples and small fruits. Arkansas ranks among the first states in the Union in the quality and quantity of apples produced. The state's farms annually produce 600,000 bales of cotton, worth $26,000,000; 900,000 bushels of sweet potatoes, 1,000,000 pounds of tobacco, 42,000,000 bushels of corn, worth $20,000,000; 2,000,000 bushels of wheat, 5,000,000 bushels of oats and 25000 tons of hay. The state has 825,000 cattle, 320,000 horses and mules, 225,000 sheep and 1,600,000 swine, worth altogether $25,000,000. The forests of Arkansas cover 30000 square miles and include yellow pine, cypress, oaks, yellow poplar and cedar. The annual production of lumber amounts to $20,000,000. Ample deposits of gray, pink and variegated marbles exist here, but none has as yet been quarried. The supply of manganese, for use in steel works, is among the most valuable in the country. There are twelve square miles of blue granite deposits, suitable for building. All the fine whetstones and razor stones used in the country come from Arkansas. There are valuable coal mines in the western part of the state. The manufactures of Arkansas are but small. There are 2400 firms, employing 16000 hands, mostly in flour and lumber mills. There are 76 counties and newspapers are published in 73. The principal cities and towns are: Little Rock, Fort Smith, Pine Bluff, Hot Springs, Helena, Texarkana, Eureka Springs, Arkadelphia, Fayetteville and Dardanelle.

WHEN you find advertisements fail to bring custom, what do you do? Stop advertising? Yes? Is this wise? Your judgment led you in the first place to advertise. We know, and you know, that advertising is always profitable if rightly conducted. You have devoted yourself to the management of your business for years. Meanwhile we have been making a close study of advertising—nothing else—and in that department can be of service to you. If your advertising has not paid, we probably can discover the cause—there must be a cause—and can suggest the remedy. We give you disinterested advice—free—and save you money, time and worry. We have at our command a thoroughly efficient staff of experienced and resourceful artists and writers—at your service at a moment's notice. Pettingill & Co.

CALIFORNIA.

Capital, Sacramento. Settled at San Diego by Spaniards in 1769. Population, 1,204,002. Area, 158,360 sq. miles. Acres of farm land, 16,593,742; value of farm land, $262,051,282. No state debt. Vote in 1896: Rep. 146,170; Dem. 121,629; Pop. 21744; Pro. 2573; Gold Dem. 1730; Socialist Labor, 1611; Nat. 1046.

California is bounded on the north by Oregon; on the east by Nevada and Arizona; on the south by Mexico and the Pacific Ocean and on the west by the Pacific Ocean. The gold state is an empire by itself, twice as large as New England, with a thousand miles of coast. It is naturally divided into a number of regions widely different in climate, soil and products. The Pacific slope on the west, the western Highland, the Great Valley and the Sierra Nevada mountains on the eastern border. The latter make up the highest portion of the state, the whole range is over 10000 feet high, there are many peaks 12000 to 13000 feet high and Mount Whitney is the highest mountain in the United States, outside of Alaska, towering 14500 feet. The best scenery is to the south, and such is the mildness and dryness of the climate that thousands of visitors camp at different points in the mountains every year. In these mountains in the eastern part of the state is situated Yosemite Valley, covering 36000 acres, with some of the grandest scenery in the world. It is nearly 4000 feet deep. The most remarkable features are the Yosemite Falls, which descends 2600 feet in the three falls: Bridal Veil Cascade with 900 feet of fall; El Capitan, a rocky sentinel 3300 feet in height; The Half Dome, a vertical cliff 1500 feet high; The Spires, Sentinel Rocks, Royal Arches and Mirror Lake. Death Valley is a desert in Tuolumne county. Other points of scenic interest are Bower Cave in Mariposa county, Alabaster Cave in Placer county and the Petrified Forest near San Francisco. The Great Valley between the Sierra Nevada and coast ranges, occupies 18000 square miles of the central part of the state and is drained by the two principal Californian rivers, the Sacramento and San Joaquin. The Klomate drains the northwestern corner of the state. Tulare, in Tulare county, is the largest lake in the state and Tahoe, on the eastern border is the highest, with an altitude of over 6000 feet. There are a number of small lakes in the northeastern part of the state. California is famous as a winter resort and the principal localities are Los Angeles, Monteray, Pasadena, San Jose and San Diego. The latter city has the largest winter resort hotel in the world; its climate is unsurpassed. California is preeminently an agricultural and mining state. Her cereal, hay and root crops amount to $70,000,000 annually, largely produced in the Great valley. Immense crops of beans, vegetables and sugar beets are produced. Chicory, mustard and the Persian Insect powder plant are grown near Stockton. Sweet potatoes and peanuts are raised nearly everywhere. Cotton is grown in the San Louis valley. In fruit culture California is the leading state in the Union. All kinds grow here equally well and the yearly production of deciduous fruits amount to 30,000,000 pounds. Fruit canning and drying are industries of vast proportions. Over 200,000 acres are planted with young vines and the annual production of wine is now 17,000,000 gallons. There are three regions of grape culture: The Coast, the Sierra foothills and the southern section, each devoted to special varieties. California boasts the largest vineyard in the world (over 4000 acres) in Tahama county and the largest wine cellar in existence (capacity 2,500,000 gallons) at St. Helena. California is the greatest wool-producing state, with 6,000,000 sheep and an annual clip of 35,000,000 pounds. The silk industry is promising. Bee culture is a growing industry. From 1849 to 1890, the state produced $1,300,000,000 in gold bullion, in the foothills of the Sierras, the coast range and Southern California. Considerable silver has been produced, but is not a paying industry. The quicksilver mines produce 2,000,000 pounds a year. In the production of petroleum, the state ranks next to Pennsylvania. Copper, lead, coal, tin, nickel, manganese, graphite, salt, borax and soda are produced in large quantities. There are great quarries of granite, gray sandstone, marble and onyx. The state has a great number of mineral springs. The deep sea fisheries employ 3000 men and the annual catch is worth over $1,000,000. California has long been famous for her big trees. In the Sierra there are forests of Sequoios, many of them 325 feet high and 50 to 100 feet in circumference. There are 57 counties and newspapers are published in 56. The principal cities and towns are: San Francisco, Los Angeles, Oakland, Sacramento, San Jose, San Diego, Stockton, Fresno, Alameda and Vallejo.

In making up lists for use in the State of California, advertisers should not fail to make use of the following Newspapers, which are reliable in every sense of the word and of proven advertising worth. In their advertisement further on in this volume specific information is given concerning each one. As the authorized representative of each of the papers recommended we shall be glad to furnish all information and to receive advertising orders for them.

NEVADA.

Capital, Carson City. Settled at Genoa by Mormons in 1851. Population, 45761. Area, 110,700. Acres of farm land, 530,862; value of farm lands, $5,408,325. No state debt. Vote in 1896: Dem. 7802; Rep. 1938; Pop. 575.

Nevada is bounded on the north by Oregon and Idaho; on the east by Utah and Arizona and on the south and west by California. Nevada is a part of the great interior basin between the Rocky and Sierra Nevada mountains, a great plateau region crossed by nearly 100 mountain ranges, from 9000 to 12000 feet high. This region is naturally unsuited to agriculture, owing to the lack of rainfall, but considerable progress has been made in irrigation so that the state has now more acres of irrigated soil under cultivation than any other state in the Union. The southeastern corner of the state is drained by the Colorado river, but except two or three short tributaries of this stream, all the rivers of Nevada are short streams that lose themselves in the desert sands. In the western part of the state there are a great many lakes, or sinks, many of them alkaline, of which the largest are Pyramid, Winnemucca, Franklin-Rugby and Washoe lakes. North of Pyramid lake is Black Rock Desert or Mud lakes. "Nevada has 120 surveyed localities of mineral springs, hot and cold, salt and borax, sulphur and iron, some of them containing infusions of arsenic, mercury and other minerals as well. Steamboat springs, eleven miles south of Reno, are a series of hot fountains, with puffs and jets of steam continually leaping from crevices in the rocks. The temperature is 212 degrees. At Elko the water of the hot springs has a singular resemblance in taste to chicken broth. At Carson, at Lawton's, and on the Tuckee River and at other points large swimming baths of stone have been constructed. In Smoky Valley a caldron-like boiling spring rushes from the earth. Hot Creek is the steaming outlet of a group of thermal springs in Nye county. Hind's Hot Springs, ten miles from Wellington's, the hot springs east of Wadsworth and the Golconda, Kyle's, Bruffy's and Shaw's hot springs are well known to Nevadians. Many of these properties are improved by hotels and cottages for health-seekers, which receive patronage from well-to-do citizens of Nevada." Stock raising is an important industry. Gold and silver mining is the leading industry of Nevada and the state has exported $560,000,000 in gold and silver bullion and $87,000,000 has been exported in one year. Nevada has 14 counties; newspapers are published in all but one. The leading cities are: Virginia City, Reno, Carson City, Eureka, Gold Hill, Ruby Hill, Austin, Pioche City, Tuscarora and Winnemucca.

ALASKA.

Capital, Sitka. Settled at Kadiak by Russians in 1784. Annexed to the United States in 1867. Population in 1890, 30329; in 1898, probably 50000. Area, 531,000 sq. miles. No farm land. No public debt.

Alaska, formerly Russian America, the most northwesterly portion of the United States, is bounded on the north by the Arctic ocean; on the east by Canada; on the south by Canada and the Pacific ocean and on the west by the Bering sea. Like a great elephant's head with the trunk pointing westward toward Asia lies this portion of our country, imperial in domain, incredibly rich in many resources and yet until within a year, in the popular mind, almost forgotten. On the British Empire the sun never sets has long been true, but since the acquisition of Alaska, it is equally true of America. The northern portion of the mainland is a vast frozen plain; there are ranges of hills on either sides of the Yukon, the mighty stream that drains the central part; south of these is a comparatively level belt; and continuations of the Rocky and Cascade mountains extend along the entire coast from Prince of Wales Island to the western extremity of the Alaskan peninsula, culminating in St. Elias range with their giants, Wrangell and Logan, about 20000 feet in height. There are 10 active volcanoes, many that are extinct and a number of glaciers that, like Muir and Davidson, rival or surpass any in the old world. The region along the upper courses of the Yukon has long been known to be rich in gold and the Alaska Mining and Milling Company has annually sent $1,000,000 worth of ore to San Francisco for reduction and refining, but in the early part of 1897 new discoveries were made on Klondike river, on the Canadian side by Joseph La Due and others that turned the attention of the world to this region, and then began an exodus thither that has already brought some 20000 miners and traders to Alaska. Later finds on Stewart river and Forty-mile Creek, are said to surpass the original discoveries on the Klondike. The early history of Alaska is a history of fur trade and "at an early day in the history of the Russian Colonies in America, transactions in the skins of fur seals began to rival in magnitude the trade of sea otter skins." It is said that in 1785, 500,000 fur seals were killed by the Russian hunters. History repeats itself: It was not long after this that the seal fisheries become almost extinct. The Russian Imperial Chamberlain, Nicolai Rezanof, visited the Pribilof islands in 1807, saw the danger and prohibited seal killing for five years. This saved the seal fisheries and the business has gone on under the monoply of the Russian American Company and later under that of the Alaska Commercial Company and the North American Commercial Company, down to the present time. Over 4,000,000 seal visit the Pribilof Islands every summer and of the 175,000 seals taken annually throughout the world, two-thirds are taken in Alaskan waters. The government has sought to guard the seal fisheries against destruction by wholesale slaughter, and with good success until a few years ago. In 1889 a number of Canadian poachers were seized by American revenue cutters and there was a dispute with England which was settled by a commission, but with unsatisfactory results. During prosperous times 100,000 fur seals, 5000 sea otters, 10000 beavers, 12000 foxes, 20000 marten and 15000 other furs has been taken annually. The Alaskan rivers teem with salmon. Prince of Wales Island, Cook's Inlet, Bristol Bay and Kadiak have a score or more of canning factories each and the salmon canning business has grown at the rate of 30,000,000 cans yearly. Five million pounds of codfish also are taken every year. The southeastern part of the district is heavily wooded with Sitka spruce, yellow cedar and hemlock forests running 1000 feet up the mountain sides. Agriculture cuts no figure in Alaska, although there are millions of acres of grass in the upper Yukon region. The population is made up of semi-barbarous Esquimaux, who inhabit the northern plains and live by hunting the millions of wild fowl to be found in the region in summer and by fishing; by other natives a grade higher than the Canadian Indians and the governing and teaching classes of American and Russians, in the south and southeast; and by the Aleuts, Mongols resembling the Japanese, of whom there are about 2000 on the principal islands. There are 18 government schools and religion and elocution are both fostered by the Greek, Roman Catholic, Episcopal and other churches which maintain 32 mission schools. The principal towns and settlements are: Sitka, Juneau, Dawson, Dyea, Hoonah, Metlakahtla, Douglas City, Unalashka, Pribilof Island and Douglas Island.

Miner—See Miner, Kingman, Ariz.

NEVADA CITY*, 6000; Nevada, 17369; 120m NE of Sacramento on Nevada County Narrow Gauge Ry. Just west of the city is the "Great Father Lode." The deepest and largest mine on this lode is the Champion, worked to a depth of 2000 feet, keeping 70 stamp mills in continuous operation. Three separate veins are being worked, the Wyoming, Champion and Merrifield, this property having produced upwards of $6,000,000. Adjoining the Champion on the south is the Providence mine, which was opened as early as 1850. Two veins are being worked to a depth of 1800 feet; this mine having produced about $7,000,000. East of the Champion mine is the Mountaineer, which has a 20-stamp mill with gold product of $1,500,000. The Nevada City mine has a 20-stamp mill; the incline shaft is 900 feet deep and it has produced $800,000. The California and Gold Tunnel mine is being worked near the surface at the present time, but has produced over $2,000,000. The Sneath and Clay, now being reopened by the Phœnix Mining Co., was worked to a depth of 500 feet and produced $1,000,000. The Mayflower has a 20-stamp mill and has produced about $1,000,000. There are numerous other mines which have produced large amounts of bullion, and which are being worked now to a profit or could be made to yield, viz.: Spanish, Pittsburg, Banner, Champion, Reward, Summit, Orleans, Gracie, Glencoe, Unity, Canada Hill, Murchie, Belle Fontaine, Federal Loan, Texas Home, Cadmus, La Compton, La Suerte, Stanford and many others. There are at present in operation in Nevada City District 330 stamps. In addition to quartz mining, Nevada City District has produced large amounts of gold from its gravel mines in the channel to the north of Nevada City, upwards of $3,000,000 having been produced from the Odin and Manzanita claims. This channel is now being profitably worked by the drift process in the Delaware and Harmony mines, and active work is in process to open the same channel in the Poorman, Hastings and Reddik. Val. $940,000. Express; Telegraph. Citizens' Bank. National Exchange Hotel.

Publisher's Statement.—The San Francisco News-Letter is a 28-page weekly journal, artistically printed, devoted to the leading interests of the Pacific Coast, and is the recognized representative of the substantial and moneyed classes. It is the oldest, as it is the most influential publication printed on the Pacific slope, and is the best possible medium for reaching the refined homes and thinking classes in the right way. It is essentially a high-class journal of comment, criticism and vigorous independence. Any advertising agent will send you a copy, quote rates and place your business.

COLORADO.

Capital, Denver. Settled at Conejos by Mexicans in 1840. Population, 410,975. Area, 103,925 sq. miles. Acres of farm land, 1,126,585; value of farm land, $25,109,223; annual value of farm products, $5,000,000. No state debt. Vote, 1896: Fusion, 158,674; Rep. 26271; Pop. 2389; Pro. 1717; Nat. 386; Socialist Labor, 159.

Colorado is bounded on the north by Wyoming and Nebraska; on the east by Nebraska and Kansas; on the south by Oklahoma and New Mexico and on the west by Utah. The "Silver state" is a princely domain of fertile fields, snow-covered mountains, rushing torrents, awful chasms, wild forests and highland parks. The eastern part is a vast plain, that by irrigation is being converted into fertile farms. The foothills are a series of long mountain ranges from 6500 to 8000 feet high enclosing many fertile valleys and fine grazing regions and rich in minerals and building materials. West of the foothills are the Rocky mountains, the Continental divide, with 40 peaks over 14000 feet and over 200 of 13000 feet. The highest mountain is Sierra Blanco (14463 feet) and other famous peaks are Gray's Peak (14341 feet), Long's Peak (14271 feet) and Pike's Peak (14147 feet). Among the mountains are a number of parks or ancient lake basins. These run the whole length of the state, with an average width of 50 miles. The most noted are North, Middle, South and San Louis parks. The latter is the largest (9400 square miles) and South Park has the best scenery. The rivers of Colorado are precipitous mountain streams. Here rise the Platte, Arkansas, Rio Grande and Colorado. There are a large number of canons, some of which approach in size and grandeur the Grand Canon of the Colorado. There are a number of lakes of great altitudes. Great forests of white and yellow pine, hemlock and cedar are on the mountain sides, up to 9000 feet. In this region there are many wild animals, including bears, wolves, panthers, wildcats, etc., and millions of prairie dogs on the plains. The state is noted for its dry, invigorating air and the region of the foothills is one great sanitarium for visitors of lung diseases. Agriculture in this state is an industry of recent growth, but is very promising. By means of irrigation over 3,000,000 acres are already cultivated and farm products are raised to the value of $12,000,000 a year. These include the cereals, hay, dairy products, honey, vegetables, grapes, berries and hardy fruits. The state also has more than 5,000,000 apple trees. Good crops of peaches, grapes and melons are raised. Alfalfa is crowding out wheat as the leading cereal crop. The state has nearly 2,000,000 cattle and over 2,000,000 sheep. Mining is the leading industry of Colorado and her gold and silver mines are among the richest in the world. Hundreds of millions have been taken out in gold and silver bullion, besides $50,000,000 worth of lead and $6,000,000 worth of copper ore; and one county has as much iron in its mountains as the whole state of Pennsylvania. There are 40000 square miles of coal fields, having 50 mines and employing nearly 6000 men. The present annual output is nearly 3,000,000 tons. The state has also 25 oil wells. Sandstone and marble in a variety of colors. Granite and gypsum are among the state's resources. Colorado has 56 counties and newspapers are published in them all. The principal cities and towns are: Denver, Pueblo, Leadville, Colorado Springs, Aspen, Trinidad, Boulder, Georgetown, Salida and Fort Collins.

In making up lists for use in the State of Colorado, advertisers should not fail to make use of the following Newspapers, which are reliable in every sense of the word and of proven advertising worth. In their advertisement further on in this volume specific information is given concerning each one. As the authorized representative of each of the papers recommended we shall be glad to furnish all information and to receive advertising orders for them.

SHORT cuts are good when we are familiar with them, but otherwise dangerous. The short cut to success in business is to advertise; but the inexperienced often find it leads to failure. As with any other business, that of advertising takes years of patient study to master. It is therefore impossible for the busy merchant to give the matter the necessary time and attention. CONNECTICUT.

Capital, Hartford. Settled at Windsor by Massachusetts men in 1633. Population 746,258. Area, 4990 sq. miles. Acres of farm land, 2,400,000; value of farm land, $135,000,000; annual value of farm products, $18,000,000. State debt, $1,239,752. Vote in 1896: Rep. 110,285; Dem. 56740; Gold Dem. 4234; Pro. 1808; Socialist Labor, 1223.

Connecticut is bounded on the north by Massachusetts; on the east by Rhode Island; on the south by Long Island sound and on the west by New York. All the eastern and central parts of the state are low and level, but there are lines of hills in the west that continue on into Massachusetts. The highest is Bear mountain (2354 feet). Three rivers drain the state: The Thames in the east, the Connecticut in the centre and the Housatonic in the west. The Thames is navigable to Norwich and the Connecticut to Hartford. Some iron and copper was mined years ago and the red sandstone quarries are still in operation, the Portland quarries alone giving work to nearly 1000 men. There are also deposits of marble, limestone, slate and porcelain clay. There are 30000 farms in the state along the river valleys and tobacco is the chief crop, with an annual crop of 14,000,000 pounds, worth over $2,000,000. The state has some fine harbors on the sound, but the shipping is not extensive. Hartford is the home of a large number of insurance companies, which carry risks amounting to $1,000,000,000. Manufacturing is the leading occupation of the state and there are 100 of the principal manufactories in 20 lines, employing over 28000 people, with annual wages of $12,500,000 and an annual product of $45,000,000. The manufacture of weapons is one of the most important industries. These include the Gatling and Hotchkiss guns and Colt's small arms of Hartford, the Winchester rifles of New Haven, the Parker guns of Meriden, the cartridges of Bridgeport and the knives and machetes of Collinsville. Besides the foregoing the most important manufactories are the silverware of Meriden, the thread of Willimantic, the sewing machines and brass goods of Bridgeport, the watches and clocks of Waterbury, Bristol and Thomaston, the bicycles and other iron and steel goods of Hartford, New Haven, Middletown, Torrington, Thompsonville and Willimantic, the powder of Hazardville, knives of Northfield, carpets of Thompsonville, plush and silverware of Seymour, bank note paper of Manchester, farming implements of Winsted and Higganum and belts of Chester. Connecticut has eight counties and newspapers are published in them all. The principal cities are: New Haven, Hartford, Bridgeport, Waterbury, Meriden, New Britain, Norfolk, Danbury, Norwich and Stamford.

In making up lists for use in the State of Connecticut, advertisers should not fail to make use of the following Newspapers, which are reliable in every sense of the word and of proven davertising worth. In their advertisement further on in this volume specific information is given concerning each one. As the authorized representative of each of the papers recommended we shall be glad to furnish all information and to receive advertising orders for them.

Publisher's Statement.—The year of 1898 showed growth in circulation of the Sentinel not a very marked increase, but substantial. It was a growth strictly in keeping with the growth in population in the field, and beyond this there are no possibilities for the Sentinel. Everything in sight was, long ago, appropriated. One fact is significant. During 1898 there were periods when the Sentinel was the only paper in the field. Its circulation remained very uniform, no larger without opposition than with it. This testifies to the universality of its readers, as well as the firmness of the hold it has upon the community.

Publisher's Statement.—The Meriden Daily Journal is the only three cent paper in its field. It consists of from 10 to 20 pages daily and covers not only Meriden, but Wallingford, Southington, Plantsville, Yalesville, Marion and Milldale. It is read by practically every family every night in this field and produces results for its advertisers as shown by the following from W. H. Baldwin, a produce merchant under date of Dec. 28, 1898. "As the result of an advertisement inserted in the 'Want' column of The Meriden Daily Journal, I sold nearly 60 cords of wood and between 60 and 70 tons of hay. I was obliged to discontinue the advertisement for the reason that I could not supply the demand it brought me."

Publisher's Statement.—The Morning Record. M. W. Sherwood & Son, proprietors of the leading department store of Meriden, write under date of Jan. 9, 1899: "We take pleasure in stating that we are highly gratified with the results obtained from our advertisements in the Morning Record and Evening Republican, occupying from one to three columns daily in each for the past year. We have used no other Meriden newspaper for two years and do not feel that we need them, so fully do the Record and the Republican seem to reach the buyers of Meriden and the adjoining towns." The advertising rates for the Record and the Republican combined are only fifty per cent more than those for either paper alone and are considerably lower, per thousand of actual circulation, than those of any other Meriden paper. The Meriden Republican is the oldest, cleanest and most reliable evening newspaper of the city and is taken regularly in nearly all the Meriden homes of the better class. Nearly every local advertiser of importance uses the columns of the Morning Record and Evening Republican. See advertising rates for the two papers combined.

Registor—Thursday; Dem; Est. '12; 8p 17×23; Sub. $1. Register Pub. Co. Circ....2000

Publisher's Statement.—The Register has the largest circulation in New Haven and makes this statement with accurate knowledge of what other papers in its field actually print. It is also the best in quality. Responses to advertisements in its columns are direct and immediate and local advertisers who have tried cheaper and poorer mediums have invariably turned to the Register and stayed there. Mechanical plant is unexcelled in the state for output.

Week (weekly edition of Day)—Thursday; Family; Est. '81; 12p 18×22; Sub. $1. Day Pub. Co. Circ.....3900

Publisher's Statement.—The Day guarantees advertisers double the circulation of any other New London paper; five times more than any other local evening paper; thirty per cent. more than all its competitors combined. Money back if these claims are found incorrect. No dead pages. None but first class advertising desired.

Globe—Evening; Ind; Est. '90; 4p 17×22; Sub. $3. Globe Pub. Co. Circ.....④2800

Telegraph—Morning; Dem; Est. '85; 8p 18×25; Sub. $5. Telegraph Co. Circ.....4630

Publisher's Statement.—The Morning Telegraph gives its readers the credit of a full knowledge of common sense and therefore rarely indulges in the "over-done" self-praise resorted to by others in regard to circulation and influence. The Telegraph is one of the cleanest in New England; no newspaper in the county has a larger circulation.

MARYLAND.

Capital, Annapolis. Settled at St. Mary's by Englishmen in 1634. Population, 1,042,390. Area, 12210 sq. miles. Acres of farm land, 5,185,221; value of farm land, $165,503,341; annual value of farm products, $28,839,281. State debt, $2,724,123.56. Vote in 1896: Rep. 136,959; Dem. 104,735; Pro. 5918; G. Dem. 2507; Social Labor 587; Nat. 136.

Maryland is bounded on the north by Pennsylvania; on the east by Delaware and the Atlantic ocean; on the south by Virginia; and on the west by Virginia and West Virginia. This state is well watered by the Susquehanna and Potomac rivers, with their branches and numerous short streams flowing into Chesapeake bay. The eastern shore, the great peninsula between Delaware and Chesapeake bays, is a great level, fertile plain. Central Maryland has a fertile soil and market gardening is a leading industry in this region. Western Maryland is a wild mountainous country, with vast stores of minerals. Chesapeake bay almost cuts the state in two parts and furnishes hundreds of miles of coast line with many fine sheltered harbors. Its waters abound with fish, terrapin are caught in certain localities and the oyster beds are the largest in the world and yield 15,000,000 bushels annually. The eastern shore has a great many pleasant summer resorts on both bays. Industrially this region is engaged in the raising of cereals. Peaches, melons, strawberries and other fruits and stock-raising and dairy-farming are becoming important industries. The region between the Potomac and Susquehanna rivers is a land of mountain ridges, green valleys and picturesque villages, many of which have become famous summer resorts. One-half the soil of Maryland is devoted to farming and the annual products amount to nearly $40,000,000. These include corn, wheat, oats, potatoes, hay and tobacco. The state has nearly 1,000,000 head of live stock. The mineral products of Maryland include 2,500,000 tons of coal and 60000 tons of iron a year and quantities of marble, slate, sandstone, limestone, porphyry, koalin, buhr-stone, lime, mica and brick clay. There are many mineral springs in the state, some of which have a national fame. The state's manufactures amount to over $100,000,000 annually and employ 75000 operatives. They include dry goods, millinery, hats, iron and steel goods and others of minor importance. There are 23 counties in Maryland and newspapers are published in all. The principal cities are: Baltimore, Cumberland, Hagerstown, Frederick, Annapolis, Easton, Lonaconing, Cambridge, Frostburg and Havre de Grace.

In making up lists for use in the State of Maryland, advertisers should not fail to make use of the following Newspapers, which are reliable in every sense of the word and of proven advertising worth. In their advertisement further on in this volume specific information is given concerning each one. As the authorized representative of each of the papers recommended we shall be glad to furnish all information and to receive advertising orders for them.

DELAWARE.

Capital, Dover. Settled at Wilmington by Swedes in 1638. Population 167,871. Area, 2050 sq. miles. Acres of farm land, 1,100,000; value of farm land, $37,000,000. State debt, $811,762. Vote 1896: Rep. 16804; Dem. 13424; Gold Dem. 877; Pro. 353.

Delaware is bounded on the north by Pennsylvania; on the east by Delaware bay; and on the south and west by Maryland. The second smallest state in the Union, Delaware is one of the busiest and has a great diversity of interests. The northern part of the state is hilly and contains deposits of porcelain, clay and iron ore; the southern is a low, alluvial plain. The fisheries are of considerable importance and include shad, herring, bass, terrapin, soft shell crabs and oysters. Good water power is obtained on Brandywine Creek. Delaware has 9000 farms, worth $37,000,000, on which are raised every year 4,000,000 bushels of corn, 12,000,000 bushels of wheat, large quantities of oats, sorghum, berries, dairy products, tomatoes, grapes, melons and 7,000,000 quarts of strawberries. Delaware peaches are famous. The state has 55000 acres devoted to this fruit and millions of baskets are shipped annually. On the Brandywine there are deposits of fine granite for building. Extensive brick works have grown out of the clay and kaolin beds around Wilmington. The manufactures of the state aggregate $50,000,000 a year and include iron ships, cars, iron and steel goods, powder, leather, cotton, pulp, paper, etc. There are three counties and newspapers are published in them all. The principal cities and towns are: Wilmington, New Castle, Dover, Milford, Smyrna, Lewes, Delaware City, Laurel, Middletown and Seaford.

In making up lists for use in the State of Delaware, advertisers should not fail to make use of the following Newspapers, which are reliable in every sense of the word and of proven advertising worth. In their advertisement further on in this volume specific information is given concerning each one. The capital city has 2295 manufactories, with $28,865,089 capital, 23401 employees, monthly pay roll of $1,218,555, and an annual product worth $39,331,437. The leading concerns are: Swift & Co., pork packers; National Capital and Chris Henrich Brewing companies, E. E. Jackson Lumber Co., J. E. Herrell & Co., brick; G. W. Cissel & Co., millers. Like a great spider's web lies the city, among a cluster of gently rising hills. Half the entire area of the city is in streets and parks. Washington has 120 miles of the widest streets in the world, shaded by grand old trees and paved with asphalt. Massachusetts avenue, five miles in length and 160 feet wide, is the city's finest street, and Pennsylvania avenue, from the Capitol to the Treasury, is perhaps the most noted. Here are: Georgetown, Howard, the Methodist and the Catholic Universities, Columbian and Smithsonian Institutes, fifteen female boarding schools, the largest of which are the Academy of Visitation, McDonald-Ellis School, Mt. Vernon Seminary, Norwood Institute and the Washington Seminary and the various departments of the national government. The latter include the Capitol, one of the most beautiful buildings in the world, surrounded by majestic colums and crowned with its great white dome; the White House, State, War and Navy building, the largest granite building in the world, which cost over $10,000,000, and where are employed over 2000 people; the Treasury building, that cost $8,000,000; the Interior Department, the Post Office with 600 clerks, the Bureau of Engraving and Printing, where 1200 persons are employed: the Government Printing Office, which employs 2700 people and pays out $3,000,000 annually in wages; the Congressional Library, recently completed at a cost of $6,500,000, the largest and finest library building in the world; the Naval Observatory and the United States Navy Yard and Gun Factory. The National gun factory has made the great 12 and 13 inch guns used on battle ships and fortifications, and is working on the largest gun ever turned out. The city is famous for its handsome and costly public and private buildings, and is everywhere adorned with beautiful and imposing monuments, equestrian statues and memorials of the Nation's great men and of her military and naval heroes. The principal hospitals are: The Columbia, Emergency, Freedmen's, Garfield Memorial, Providence, Home for Incurables, Children's, Homoeopathic, Foundlings and many other smaller institutions of charity and rescue. The various libraries of the departments of the government are accessible to the employees. In addition to these there are private circulating libraries, the aggregate number of volumes of which is over 1,000,000. The most important are as follows: Congressional, Carroll Institute, Masonic, Peabody, Odd Fellows, Municipal and Workingmen's. Here are eight accident insurance companies, the Aetna, Central Accident of Pittsburg, Fidelity and Casualty, N. Y., Interstate Casualty, N. Y., Massachusetts Mutual, Preferred, N. Y., Travelers, U. S. Casualty, N. Y. Over 100 fire insurance companies are represented in this city, including all the principal companies in the world. Besides these there are 13 home companies, consisting of the German American, the Peoples, Metropolitan, Lincoln, Arlington, Riggs, Commercial, Corcoran, Franklin, Firemen's, Mutual and Potomac. In winter this city is the centre of official society of the United States and a great winter resort for the families of those connected with the government. Val. $158,532,366. Express; Telegraph. Riggs Nat. Bank. Shoreham Hotel.

FLORIDA.

Capital, Tallahassee. Settled at St. Augustine by Spaniards in 1565. Population 390,435. Area, 58680 sq. miles. Acres of farm land, 3,300,000; value of farm land, $20,000,000. State debt, $153,391. Vote in 1896: Dem. 30683; Rep. 11288; Pop. 2053; Gold Dem. 1778; Pro. 654.

Florida is bounded on the north by Georgia and Alabama; on the east by the Atlantic ocean; on the south by Florida strait and the Gulf of Mexico and on the west by the Gulf of Mexico. This state is the scene of the wanderings of Ponce de Leon, Panfilo de Narvaez and De Soto and the murderous reign of Menendez. It includes northern Florida, the mainland division the highest portion; middle Florida, the original peninsula, a high, rolling country, crowned with great forests of pines and hemlocks and studded with crystal lakes; and southern Florida, an immense area of low, swampy made land of comparatively recent origin, culminating in the everglades only a few feet above the sea. It is in middle Florida that most of the world famous resorts are located. The southern part is surrounded by low lying islands of which Largo is the largest. On this and the other principal islands are a great number of farms producing great quantities of early fruits and vegetables for the northern market. The Florida Keys produce cocoanuts and pineapples in immense quantities. The fisheries of Florida are important and employ over 10000 men, with a yearly product worth $1,000,000. The catch includes sponges, mullets, red snappers, pompano, king fish, Spanish mackeral, channel bass, blue fish, trout and oysters. Shad run in many of the rivers and gigantic sea turtles are caught off the Keys. The latter sometimes weigh 1200-1500 pounds. Lumbering is the foremost industry of the state, amounting to over $20,000,000 a year. The annual farm products include 45,000,000 bushels of corn, 600,000 bushels of oats, 1,300,000 pounds of rice, 1,000,000 gallons of molasses and 1500 hogshead of sugar and considerable amounts of tea, coffee, flax, hemp, barley, hops, peas and beans. The state produces 60000 bales of cotton annually, largely sea island, and tobacco raising is becoming an industry of large proportions. There are 50 varieties of oranges and Florida oranges "beat the world." There are 10000 square miles devoted to orange culture and over 2,000,000 boxes a year are exported. Other fruits are grown in considerable quantities, including grape fruit, cocoanuts and pineapples, lemons, limes, grapes, dates, guavas, citrons, tamarinds, pomegranates, figs, olives, pears, apples, peaches, quinces and yellow and red bananas. Extensive phosphate beds are found in the southern part of the state and the annual export is very large. There are 45 counties and newspapers are published in them all. The principal cities and towns are: Key West, Jacksonville, Pensacola, Tampa, St. Augustine, Palatka and Tallahassee.

In making up lists for use in the State of Florida, advertisers should not fail to make use of the following Newspapers, which are reliable in every sense of the word and of proven advertising worth. In their advertisement further on in this volume specific information is given concerning each one. As the authorized representative of each of the papers recommended we shall be glad to furnish all information and to receive advertising orders for them.

NO business man can afford the time to thoroughly master the art in advertising. It is "time elaborately thrown away." He might be more profitably employed. Every man to his specialty. When an advertiser does his own advertising, it is "speculation;" when he does it through an experienced agent, it is "investment." Select your agent carefully. You engage a lawyer who has made a reputation; a doctor who has wrought cures for a generation; a bank which has weathered financial storms. We have helped two generations to save money and make it, by showing how, when and where advertising should be done to produce the best results with the least expenditure. Pettingill & Co.

GEORGIA.

Capital, Atlanta. Settled at Savannah by Englishmen in 1733. Population, 1,833,353. Area, 59475 sq. miles. Acres of farm land, 26,000,000; annual value of farm products, $112,000,000; State debt, $8,065,221. Vote in 1896: Dem. 94232; Rep. 60091; Pro. 5613; Gold Dem. 2708.

Georgia is bounded on the north by Tennessee and North Carolina; on the east by South Carolina and the Atlantic ocean; on the south by Florida and on the west by Alabama and Florida. The state divides naturally into three dissimliar regions known as lower, middle and upper Georgia. Lower Georgia comprises about 3500 square miles of pine barrens, sand hills, swamp belt and the Sea islands. Of the latter, the most famous and one of the most beautiful is Jekyl island, the home of Oglethorpe, 150 years ago and now occupied and controlled by a wealthy club, which has splendid club houses and bathing establishment and the largest game preserve in America. There are good harbors at Savannah, Darien and St. Mary's. The foreign exports amount to $20,000,000 annually, principally cotton and naval stores, shipped from Savannah. Still larger than this is the coasting trade of Brunswick and St. Mary's, made up of fruits, vegetables, fish, lumber, cotton and naval stores. There are considerable fisheries of pompano, red snappers, sea trout, Spanish mackerel and green turtles. Middle Georgia comprises 15000 miles of naturally good, but impoverished soil. Upper Georgia, is the highest part of the state and comprises 10000 square miles of the Apalachian range, culminating in Sitting Bull in the northeast and including historic Lookout in the northwest. The state is drained by the Savannah river on the eastern border, by the Altamaha and its great confluents, the Oconee and Ocmulgee; in the centre, by the Chatahooche on the southwest border and by the branches of the Tennessee in the north. All but the latter are navigable for considerable distances. A great variety of trees grow in the state,the most important of which commercially are pine and live oak; and 200,000,000 feet of lumber and timber, worth $7,000,000, are exported annually. From the pine barrens of lower Georgia come great quantities of tar, pitch, turpentine and rosin, which are exported from Savannah and Brunswick. Agriculturally the state takes high place, ranking third in the Union in the production of cotton, the annual exportation of which has reached 1,000,000 bales; the annual production of corn is 30,000,000 bushels; of sweet potatoes, 5,000,000 bushels. There are also large crops of wheat, oats, clover, tobacco, rice and sorghum. Middle Georgia produces great quantities of grapes, apples, pears, peaches and early cabbages, onions, beans, peas, potatoes and cucumbers. Fruit growing is an important industry in the lowlands and includes oranges, lemons, bananas, olives, figs, mulberries, early strawberries, and the best watermelons in the world. The annual fruit crop aggregates $10,000,000. The state has millions invested in live stock. Georgia is well stocked with minerals. There are 200 square miles of coal fields in the northwestern part of the state and 350 square miles of iron ore nearby. Immense quantities of fine marbles of many different colors are quarried at Tate and Marietta. Many other minerals abound, but not in paying quantites. There are 137 counties and newspapers are published in 129. The principal cities are: Atlanta, Savannah, Augusta, Macon, Columbus, Athens, Brunswick, Rome, Americus and Griffin.

In making up lists for use in the State of Georgia, advertisers should not fail to make use of the following Newspapers, which are reliable in every sense of the word and of proven advertising worth. In their advertisement further on in this volume specific information is given concerning each one. As the authorized representative of each of the papers recommended we shall be glad to furnish all information and to receive advertising orders for them.

SAID a prominent New England publisher: "I respect the firm of Pettingill & Co. because I know they are more interested in the success of their clients than most other agencies, and place the business where they can get the best service for the money. We always give them the lowest rates and the choicest positions because they are developers of business and allies rather than parasites."

IDAHO.

Capital, Boise City. Settled at Fort Hall by Americans in 1834. Population, 84305. Area, 84800 sq. miles. Acres of farm land, 328,000; value of farm land, $2,800,000. State debt, $200,855. Vote in 1896: Dem. 23192; Rep. 6324; Pro. 179.

Idaho is bounded on the north by British Columbia and Montana; on the east by Montana and Wyoming; on the south by Utah and Nevada and on the west by Oregon and Washington. Idaho is a great wedge-shaped plateau, with an average elevation of nearly 5000 feet and rising to 10000 feet among the Rocky mountains on the east. The Snake river, with its tributaries, drains the state. The scenery along this stream is grand and picturesque. There are wild gorges and precipitous falls, all along its upper course and Shoshone Falls compare with Niagara in grandeur. The river at this point is 950 feet wide and the cataract is a third higher than its eastern rival. The lakes of Idaho are among the the most beautiful to be found anywhere. Bear, Pend 'Oreilles and Cœur-d 'Alene are the most famous. Steamers run on the Snake river between Lewiston and Riporia on the Lower Clear water between Lewiston and the lower fork, on Cœur-d 'Alene lake and river and on Lake Pend ' Orielles. The Saw Tooth and other detached ranges in the centre divide the state into two dissimilar regions. The northern portion contains millions of acres of good farming and grazing land; the southern part is a dry lava plain, excepting regions near the rivers where irrigation has been profitably employed. The state produces annually 1,500,000 bushels of wheat, 1,300,000 bushels of oats, large crops of barley, potatoes and hay and $1,000,000 worth of fruit. There are 600,000 horses and cattle and 350,000 sheep. The latter shear 2,000,000 pounds of wool a year. The mines of Idaho have produced $170,000,000 in precious metals. Besides these there are mines of copper, iron, coal and mica. There are extensive marble quarries on the Snake river and granite, limestone and sandstone are plentiful. The production of salt from Saline springs is 2,000,000 pounds a year. The flouring mills produce $1,000,000 worth of goods annually. Idaho has 21 counties and newspapers are published in them all. The principal towns are: Boise City, Pocatello, Hailey, Lewiston, Bellevue, Ketchum, Moscow, Wardner, Shoshone and Wallace.

METHOD IN ADVERTISING.

"Be Wise with Speed."

—Young.

THE poet Gray said of himself that he "had not the method of making a fortune." It takes method. Method is the outward and visible sign of experience. Men of business believe in advertising, but many of them fail to succeed for lack of method. A reliable advertising agent has experience and method as his stock in trade. He knows when to put the small advertisement in the large paper, or the large advertisement in the small paper; what paper or periodical to put it in; when, where, and how, and just how much should be paid for it. He is the pilot to avoid the rocks and shoals of "schemes" and side issues and direct you to a safe port. It is best to calculate what amount you can afford to invest in advertising during a given time; then come to us, and we will show you how to make it go the farthest and do the most good. Let us reduce your advertising to a method, regulated by your expenditure and based on our experience of nearly fifty years. You will soon realize the soundness of our advice. Our staff of artists and writers is unexcelled for efficiency, and can be relied upon for rapid, satisfactory, and economical service.

ILLINOIS.

Capital, Springfield. Settled at Kaskaskia by Frenchmen in 1720. Population, 3,818,536. Area, 56650 sq. miles. Acres of farm land, 32,500,000; value of farm land, $1,010,000,000. No state debt. Vote in 1896: Rep. 607,130; Dem. 464,523; Pro. 9796; Gold Dem. 6390; Socialist Labor, 1147; Pop. 1090; Nat. 793.

Illinois is bounded on the north by Wisconsin; on the east by Indiana; on the south by Kentucky; and on the west by Missouri and Iowa. This state is a great alluvial plain and is one of the most fertile districts in the world. The Mississippi river drains the state on the west, the Ohio on the south, the Wabash on the east and the Illinois in the central part, and all are navigable. The state is fairly well wooded and a variety of hard woods supply the demands of the furniture shops. Illinois takes first rank in the production of wheat and corn. The state annually produces 227,000,000 bushels of corn, valued at $70,000,000; 30,000,000 bushels of wheat, 100,000,000 bushels of oats, 500,000 pounds of grass seed, 1,500,000 pounds of flaxseed, 11,000,000 pounds of broom corn, 1,300,000 gallons of sorghum syrup, $3,500,000 worth of eggs and poultry, 800,000 pounds of honey and 100,000 pounds of beeswax. There are 300,000 acres of orchards and vineyards and the yield of peaches, apples, small fruits and berries is very large. Three million pounds of grapes and 300,000 gallons of wine a year, is produced. Illinois is the first state in the Union in the production of horses and annually raises over 100,000 horses, 2,500,000 cattle and an immense number of hogs and the annual wool clip has been 6,000,000 pounds. Rich coal beds underlie three-fourths of the state and there are 800 mines, employing over 30000 men and producing 12,000,000 tons a year. Considerable iron ore is mined and copper is found in small quantities. The lead mines are not worked so extensively as formerly. Zinc is found in paying quantities. There are salt wells in the south. Forty quarries, with 2200 men, furnish a superior grade of light drab limestone in the northeastern part of the state. There are 30 grain elevators in Chicago alone and here are the Union stock yards, the largest in the world, covering 350 acres. These yards handle $200,000,000 worth of live stock annually. Illinois has 16000 factories, capitalized at over $150,000,000, employing 150,000 operatives and paying $60,000,000 a year in wages. The state ranks first in the meat packing and lumber industries and the making of malt and distilled liquors. The other manufactures are extensive and embrace leather, boots and shoes, railroad bridges and cars, furniture, sash, doors and blinds, planed lumber, carriages and wagons, harvesting machines, bicycles, steam and gas fittings, hardware and soap. Chicago is the greatest bicycle centre in the world. The well-known city of Pullman has the world's greatest palace car establishment. The transportation facilities of this state are unequalled, including as they do, water communications on the Great lakes, Mississippi and Ohio rivers, a number of canals and more miles of railroad than any other state. There are 102 counties and newspapers are published in them all. The leading cities are: Chicago, Peoria, Quincy, Springfield, Rockford, Joliet, Bloomington, Aurora, Elgin and Decatur.

In making up lists for use in the State of Illinois, advertisers should not fail to make use of the following Newspapers, which are reliable in every sense of the word and of proven advertising worth. In their advertisement further on in this volume specific information is given concerning each one. As the authorized representative of each of the papers recommended we shall be glad to furnish all information and to receive advertising orders for them.

IN a recent gathering of forty prominent publishers, the question of advertising agencies came up for discussion. The question involved herein was, which is the best agency, from both the standpoint of the publisher and the advertiser? The unanimous answer was Pettingill & Co.

Post and Zeitung (German)—Thursday; Rep; Est. '49; 8-16p 18×26; Sub. $1.50. Post & Zeitung Pub. Co. Circ.....3518

Publisher's Statement.—The Daily and Weekly Belleville Post and Zeitung has a larger circulation than any paper in southern Illinois. It was established Jan. 11, 1849, which is enough proof that it is a good paper. Every enterprising farmer in southern Illinois keeps the weekly, and every man who wants a clean and newsy paper for his family has the daily Post and Zeitung sent to his home in Belleville.

CHICAGO*, 1,752,000; Cook, 1,191,922; (includes Chicago Lawn, Englewood, Edgewood, Grand Crossing, Grass Park, Hyde Park, Jefferson, Mayfair, Pullman, South Chicago and South Englewood); has a splendid harbor and miles of water front on Chicago river and Lake Michigan, and lines of passenger and freight steamers to all important Great Lake Ports; ships grain, lumber, live and dressed meats to European ports, via the Great Lakes; is second largest city in America and metropolis of the Middle and Western states and the greatest railway, grain, lumber, furniture and live and dressed meat centre in the world. There are five union depots and two individual depots, as follows: Union Depot, Adams and Canal Streets, occupied by the Chicago & Alton; Pittsburg, Ft. Wayne & Chicago; Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul; Chicago, Burlington & Quincy; Pittsburg, Cincinnati, Chicago & St. Louis. Dearborn Station, Polk street and Third avenue; used by the Sante Fe Route; Grand Trunk; Chicago & Eastern Ill.; Wabash; Chicago & Erie; Chicago, Indianapolis & Louisville. Van Buren Street Depot, Van Buren and Sherman streets; used by the Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific; Lake Shore & Michigan Southern. Grand Central Station, Harrison Street and Fifth Avenue; occupied by the Baltimore & Ohio; Chicago & Northern Pacific; Wisconsin Central; Chicago Great Western. Central Depot, Twelfth Street and Park Row; used by the Illinois Central; Michigan Central; Cleveland, Cincinnati, Chicago & St. Louis; Chicago & West Michigan. Wells Street Depot, Wells and Kinzie Streets, occupied by the Chicago & Northwestern Railway. Nickel Plate Depot, Twelfth and Clark Streets; used by the New York, Chicago & St. Louis Railway. There are four lines of elevated railway and numerous surface tracks within the city. "The city is built up around the original site of Old Fort Dearborn, and is divided into three main divisions by the Chicago river, which diverges 7000 feet from the lake, one branch extending in a northwesterly direction, and another branch to the south, thence westward. The divisions of the city are known as the North Side, South Side and West Side. The main business district occupies the northern portion of the South Side. A great deal of artificial ground has been constructed from time to time to meet the demands of the rapidly growing populace." Chicago has 3401 manufactories, with $254,230,000 capital, employing 168,440 people, with monthly pay roll of $8,127,083, and an annual product valued at $549,550,000, and including iron and steel goods, farming tools, carriages, furniture, clothing, leather, planed lumber, distilled liquors, soap, tobacco and cigars, chemicals, flour and many other commodities. The city has 30 grain elevators and handles 350,000,000 bushels of grain a year. The Union stock yards, the largest in the world, cover 350 acres, three-fifths under roof and cost $3,000,000. Over $200,000,000 worth of live stock is handled every year. Chicago's bank clearings have reached $4,600,000,000 in a single year; her wheat exports 105,000,000 bushels; corn 186,000,000 bushels, and oats 58,000,000 bushels annually; annual receipts of cattle, 2,500,000 head; sheep, 3,600,000 head, and hogs over 8,000,000 head. Her wholesale houses do an annual business of $550,000,000. No city in the world equals Chicago in push and enterprise; a trading post in 1850, reduced to ashes in 1871, the scene of the most splendid exposition on record in 1893. The World's fair was a magnificent memorial of Chicago energy and daring, but the city has a more enduring monument to the enterprise of her citizens in the great auditorium building. It was begun in 1887, and finished in 1890 and cost $3,500,000. "This enormous structure fronts on three of the chief streets, presenting impressive and commanding facades of Romanesque architecture, abounding in strong, round arches. It is as nearly fireproof as a structure can be made, being built of granite, limestone, iron and steel, with impenetrable walls and nothing inflammable, except the furniture. Among the component parts of the Auditorium building are the business portion, including handsome stores and 136 offices; the tower observatory, 270 feet high and occupied by the U. S. signal service; the recital hall, seating 500 persons; and the auditorium, the largest and most sumptuous theater and opera house in the world, with the most complete and costly stage and an organ of unusual power and sweetness, and a seating capacity of 4100, which can be enlarged to 8000. The Auditorium hotel is a part of this mighty pile, and includes 400 guest rooms, with a grand dining room and kitchen on the 10th floor, and a banquet hall built of steel, on trusses, over the theater. The auditorium tower has become one of the notable sights of Chicago. It is generally admitted that the auditorium proper, or the great hall, surpasses all the opera houses of both Europe and this country in beauty of decoration and finish, as well as in capacity. This architectural pride of the great west occupies a charming site overlooking Lake Michigan and its commercial fleets, while close around it surge the life and activity of Chicago." Chicago is the original city of "sky scrapers" and its Masonic Temple, 20 stories; Fisher Building and Great Northern Theater, 18 stories; Reliance, Marquette, Monadnock, Old Colony, Unity, Ashland, "The Fair," Manhattan and Cook County Abstract buildings, all 16 stories high, are among the loftiest and most imposing structures in the world. Among the city's many beautiful public buildings may be mentioned the Federal Building, costing $4,000,000; Stock Exchange, Public Library, Chamber of Commerce, the splendid new buildings of Chicago University, Dearborn and Wisconsin Central Railway stations, Synagogue Anshe Mariv, Church of the Covenant, Zion Temple, Western Theological Seminary and Union League and Standard club houses. Chicago's educational institutions include: The great University of Chicago, St. Ignatius (R. Catholic) College, Chicago (Congregational), Western and McCormick (Presbyterian) Theological seminaries, Manual Training School, Field Columbian Museum, Art Institute, Bible Institute for Missions and Libby Prison. The latter has been removed to Chicago and reconstructed for a war museum. Chicago's park system, costing $10,000,000, is one of the finest in the world, and includes Lincoln Park, 310 acres, on the North Side; Humboldt, 194 acres; Garfield, 185 acres; and Douglass, 171 acres, all on the West Side, and Lake Washington and Jackson, 165 acres altogether, on the South Side. These are connected by miles of splendid boulevards like Michigan avenue and Sheridan Drive. Beautiful statuary abounds in the parks and along the boulevards; the most famous monuments in the city are St. Gauden's Lincoln, Count Lelaing's La Salle, the Drexel monument and the statue of Douglas. The leading hotels are: Auditorium, Great Northern, Palmer House, Leland, Wellington, Virginia, Lexington, Metropole, Lakota, Grace, Clifton House, Atlantic, Burke's, Gault, Windsor, Sherman, Lansing, Briggs House, Chicago Beach, Gore's, McCoy's, Bordeaux, Brevort, Imperial, Revere House, Saratoga, Transit, Tremont, Vendome, Victoria, Plaza, Stamford, Grand Central Station, Chicago View and Kuhn's. The following are the principal theaters: Auditorium, Chicago Opera House, Columbia Theater, Grand Opera House, Haymarket, Hooley's, McVicker's and Schiller. Val. $438,712,560. Express; Telegraph. First Nat. Bank.

Publisher's Statement.—"Probably the most enterprising of all these papers published in foreign languages is the Daily Jewish Courier. The Courier is just as enterprising as the American papers—perhaps even more enterprising than some of them. Its influence among the Jewish race of the city is widespread and strong. The paper was founded over a decade ago in Chicago and has prospered ever since. Today it prints between 5000 and 6000 papers every afternoon and scatters them on every side of Chicago. The paper prints a weekly edition, which has a circulation almost twice as large as that of the daily and which is sent all over the world. The weekly has subscribers which are located as far away as southern Africa." Chicago Chronicle, April 24th, 1898.

Publisher's Statement.—The Pike County Democrat is acknowleged to be the leading paper in the 16th Congressional district. Having been under the present ownership and management for more than 40 years it has come as nearly acquiring a paid up list as it is possible for a country paper to do. Advertisers know the value of getting before the class of people who have the money and are willing to pay for what they get, consequently the Democrat is rated high as an advertising medium.

Publisher's Statement.—The Quincy, Ill., Whig, (morning and weekly editions) are the leading papers of the section of Illinois in which they are published and it is the determination of the present publishers to maintain that position. The Morning Whig is the only morning paper in Quincy, a city of nearly 50000 population and the only morning paper in a Congressional District of seven counties using the Associated Press report. These conditions give the Morning Whig a field entirely its own. To the advertiser who wishes representation in the section of the country through which the Morning and Weekly Whig are extensively circulated and widely read, these papers offer the best mediums through and by which to reach the people whose patronage may be sought.

INDIANA.

Capital, Indianapolis. Settled at Vincennes by the Frenchmen in 1702. Population, 2,192,404. Area, 36350 sq. miles. Acres of farm land, 21,000,000; value of farm land, $635,000,000. State debt, $3,661,723. Vote in 1896: Rep. 323,754; Dem. 305,753; Pro. 3056; Nat. 2268; Gold Dem. 2145; Socialist Labor, 329.

Indiana is bounded on the north by Lake Michigan and Michigan; on the east by Ohio; on the south by Kentucky and on the west by Illinois. It is a rolling plain sloping toward the southeast. Over one-third of the state is woodland, the northern section growing hemlocks and maples and the southern sweet gums, pecans and sycamores; and the lumber products amount to $16,000,000 a year. The state has 9,000,000 acres in plowed and meadow land and produces 200,000,000 bushels of cereals annually. The Wabash valley is especially fine corn and wheat land and in the best years the corn crop has reached 130,000,000 bushels and the wheat crop 40,000,000 bushels. Besides the foregoing, large crops of barley, rye, cloverseed, flaxseed, buckwheat, sorghum, potatoes and tobacco are raised. The state has over 10,000,000 fruit trees and annually raises 36,000,000 bushels of apples and 4,000,000 bushels of peaches. The production of grapes amounts to 7,000,000 pounds a year. The quantity of dairy products is very large. There is live stock valued at $70,000,000 and 120,000 hives of bees, producing 1,000,000 pounds of honey a year. Seven thousand square miles of bituminous coal are among the resources of Indiana. There are 400 natural gas wells in the state, with a capital of $6,000,000. At Bedford, in the southern part of the state, there are extensive quarries of Indiana limestone, a a fine, handsome building stone in two colors, buff and blue, that has been used in the Auditorium, Chicago, Times Building, New York and many others. Among the other minerals are sandstone, gypsum, slate, lithographic stone, whetstone, marble, blue stone, white glass sand, brick and porcelain clays and cement. Wyandotte cave, Hamer's Mill cave are among the scenic attractions of the state. At Indianapolis is located a U. S. Arsenal and at Jeffersonville is the main quartermaster's depot for the United States. The manufactures of Indiana have enjoyed a rapid growth in recent years owing to the discovery and use of natural gas, the factories number 8000, capitalized at $65,000,000 and employ 70000 people. The products include the pulleys of Meshawaka, the packed meats, flour, bicycles and desks of Indianapolis; the carriages of Indianapolis and South Bend, the plows of the latter city, the food products of Terre Haute, the plate glass of New Albany, the woolens of the latter city and many others. The state has 92 counties and newspapers are published in them all. The principal cities are: Indianapolis, Evansville, Fort Wayne, Terre Haute, South Bend, New Albany, Richmond, La Fayette, Logansport and Elkhart.

In making up lists for use in the state of Indiana, advertisers should not fail to make use of the following Newspapers, which are reliable in every sense of the word and of proven advertising worth. In their advertisement further on in this volume specific information is given concerning each one. As the authorized representative of each of the papers recommended we shall be glad to furnish all information and to receive advertising orders for them.

Publisher's Statement.—The Sun, Indianapolis (Ind.) guarantees advertisers to have more circulation in Indianapolis than any other two dailies here, with one exception. Its advertising columns contain more local advertising than any other two dailies here, with one exception, and almost an equal amount with the paper having the largest circulation in Indiana. This is a strong evening field, nearly every family takes one of the two evening papers. There are 38000 families in Indianapolis. The other evening paper claims to reach 23000 of them. The Sun's guarantee to advertisers is about one-half the local circulation of the other paper referred to. Average daily circulation for November, 1898, 16103. Press-room and books open to investigating advertisers.

Publisher's Statement.—The Democrat, daily and weekly, is read by two-thirds of the people of Daviess county and the city of Washington. It has by far the largest circulation of any paper published in the county. We are prepared to prove this proposition by opening our subscription lists and press room to any advertisers wanting to use the columns of the Democrat for advertising purposes. We use no canvassers to boom our circulation, but depend wholly upon the merits of the paper as a reliable dispenser of news to secure subscribers.

IOWA.

Capital, Des Moines. Settled at Burlington by New Englanders in 1835. Population. 1,911,896. Area, 56025 sq. miles. Acres of farm land, 25,055,163; value of farm land, $567,430,227; annual value of farm products, $136,103,473. No state debt. Vote in 1896: Rep. 289,293; Dem. 223,741; Gold Dem. 4516; Pro. 3192; Socialist Labor, 453; Nat. 352.

Iowa is bounded on the north by Minnesota; on the east by Wisconsin and Illinois; on the south by Missouri and on the west by Nebraska and South Dakota. This state is a great prairie belt between the Mississippi and Missouri rivers, which with their branches drain the state and furnish hundreds of miles of navigable waterways. Ninety-nine per cent of the state is adapted for farming, but the best soil is in the bottom lands of the Iowa and Des Moines rivers. Small grains and vegetables are raised all over the state. Immense crops of baled hay are exported from the bluegrass region in the southeast and large numbers of horses and cattle are raised here. More than one-half the people in the state are farmers and the annual value of their products is $365,000,000. Iowa leads the world in the production of corn, raising 322,000,000 bushels annually. Sioux City's corn palaces have achieved international fame. The state also produces 37000 bushels of wheat, 80,000,000 bushels of oats, 2,000,000 bushels of rye, 5,000,000 bushels of barley, 20,000,000 bushels of potatoes and 7,000,000 tons of hay. The corn canneries of the state put up 7,000,000 cans a year. This state ranks first in the raising of swine, with 4,000,000 head annually, worth $28,000,000; second in milch cows, with 1,200,000 head a year, worth $80,000,000; third in horses, with 1,000,000 head, valued at $74,000,000; second in the production of butter, with 52,000,000 pounds and fourth in the making of cheese, with 1,500,000 pounds. The poultry and egg production reaches $5,000,000 a year. The state has 20000 square miles of bituminous coal, with 400 mines and 12500 men, producing 3,500,000 tons annually. The most valuable mines are in the Des Moines valley. Lead and zinc are found in limestone pockets in the northeast. The state is also rich in limestone, sandstone, marble and gray gypsum. There are 128 quarries, employing 2000 men. Iowa's manufactures reach $70,000,000 annually. There are 300 saw mills turning out $6,000,000 worth of lumber a year; flour mills, with an annual product of $20,000,000; meat packing establishments, with a yearly output of $11,000,000; and manufactories of agricultural implements, wagons, furniture, woolen goods, boots and shoes and others of minor importance. There are 99 counties and newspapers are published in them all. The leading cities are: Des Moines, Sioux City, Dubuque, Davenport, Burlington, Council Bluffs, Cedar Rapids, Keokuk, Ottumwa and Clinton.

In making up lists for use in the State of Iowa, advertisers should not fail to make use of the following Newspapers, which are reliable in every sense of the word and of proven advertising worth. In their advertisement further on in this volume specific information is given concerning each one. As the authorized representative of each of the papers recommended we shall be glad to furnish all information and to receive advertising orders for them.

SHORT cuts are good when we are familiar with them, but otherwise dangerous. The short cut to success in business is to advertise; but the inexperienced often find it leads to failure. As with any other business, that of advertising takes years of patient study to master. It is therefore impossible for the busy merchant to give the matter the necessary time and attention. Publisher's Statement.—The Herald is the oldest paper in Page county. It was established in 1859. It is published twice a week, four pages on Tuesday and eight pages on Friday and has an average circulation each issue of 2200. The editor, C. A. Lisle, has always been recognized, since taking the editorship, as being one of the ablest and staunchest Republicans in the state. He is also a temperance worker and is utterly fearless in his writings. The paper circulates thoroughly over the county and adjacent territory and its subscribers are all of the better class of citizens, who believe in upholding a paper that stands for morality and reform. The paper enjoys a fine advertising patronage.

Publisher's Statement.—The News' circulation reports are guaranteed by the Advertisers' Guarantee Co. and attested by committees of local advertisers, who make frequent examinations. Advertising rates, 4 cents per agate line, flat; 56 cents per inch; 5 to 15 per cent additional for position. This rate is only one-sixth of a cent per line per thousand circulation. The News brings better returns for the price than any other paper in Iowa. The News owns and operates exactly half of the press facilities of Des Moines, substantiating its claim that its circulation exceeds that of any four other Iowa dailies combined.

Publisher's Statement.—The Emmet County Republican, official paper of city and county, has the largest bona fide circulation of any paper published in the county. It is the leading paper. Was established in 1880. An advertisement in the Republican will cover all the territory tributary to Estherville, the largest and best town between Cedar Rapids and Sioux Falls. The town and county have made remarkable growth the past five years and promise even more the coming season. This is an agricultural region and now is the time for advertisers to reach that class of people and there is no better medium in which to do it than the Republican. Rates made known on application.

Publisher's Statement.—We, the undersigned merchants and advertising patrons of the Times-Republican, state that we have, this day, witnessed the press run and mailing of both the Daily and Semi-Weekly editions, have thoroughly investigated the mailing galleys, proofs of same and circulation books of both editions, have counted and verified said lists and records to our entire satisfaction and find as follows: The press run on the daily was 4361, the mailing list 4253 and after deducting exchanges and dead-head papers of all kinds there was left an actual paid circulation of 4134. On the Semi-weekly the press run was 6231, the mailing list 5999 and after deducting exchanges and dead head papers of all kinds there was left an actual paid circulation of 5846, which is maintained strictly on a cash in advance and stop when out system. We further state that during this investigation we have had free access to any and all records pertaining to the business and give these facts as being, to the best of our knowledge and belief, correct in every detail. Publisher's Statement.—The Herald is the leading newspaper in the sixth Iowa Congressional district. It goes into the homes of people who buy goods. It is read by more families than any other medium or combination of mediums in Mahaska county which has a population of 38000. Circulation guaranteed. Advertising rates very low. The Weekly was established in 1850, and the Daily in 1887, and never has the Herald kept on its lists non-paying subscribers nor sample copy subscribers in order to deceive advertisers.

KANSAS.

Capital, Topeka. Settled at Fort Leavenworth by Americans in 1850. Population, 1,427,096. Area, 82080 sq. miles. Acres of farm land, 21,454,476; value of farm land, $235,178,936; annual value of farm products, $52,240,361. Vote in 1896: Rep. 159,345; Dem. 126,660; Pop. 46194; Pro. 1611; Gold Dem. 1209; Nat. 620.

Kansas, the central state in the Union, is bounded on the north by Nebraska; on the east by Missouri; on the south by Indian Territory and Oklahoma and on the west by Colorado. It is a vast undulating plain, rising from a few hundred feet in the south to over 4000 in the northwest and everywhere fertile. The country is admirably watered by the Kansas and Arkansas rivers and their numerous branches. Farming is the leading industry. This state annually produces 275,000,000 bushels of corn, 35,000,000 bushels of wheat, 55,000,000 bushels of oats, 11,500,000 bushels of potatoes, 4,000,000 tons of hay, 4,000,000 pounds of broom corn, 645,000 pounds of cotton, 1,500,000 pounds of sorghum and 5,000,000 pounds of syrup, 30,000,000 pounds of butter, 500,000 pounds of cheese and $1,800,000 worth of poultry and eggs. Kansas has 20,000,000 fruit trees and the crop of apples and small fruits is very large. Dairy products, poultry, eggs and honey also are produced extensively. The state has more than 40,000,000 acres in grass, with 750,000 horses, 1,000,000 mules and 3,000,000 cattle. Altogether the value of the live stock in the state is $150,000,000. The dressed and packed meat business is very large. Kansas has zinc and lead mines and Pittsburg, in this state, is the second city in the Union in the zinc smelting business. The total output of the state's smelting works is nearly $20,000,000. The bituminous coal fields east of Wichita cover 17000 square miles. There are a number of gas wells near the coal fields. Limestone and gypsum are found plentifully and there are large beds of rock salt and extensive chalk quarries. Kansas has 105 counties and newspapers are published in all. The leading cities are: Kansas City, Topeka, Wichita, Leavenworth, Atchison, Fort Scott, Lawrence, Hutchinson, Arkansas City and Abilene.

In making up lists for use in the State of Kansas, advertisers should not fail to make use of the following Newspapers, which are reliable in every sense of the word and of proven advertising worth. In their advertisement further on in this volume specific information is given concerning each one. As the authorized representative of each of the papers recommended we shall be glad to furnish all information and to receive advertising orders for them.

SAID a prominent New England publisher: "I respect the firm of Pettingill & Co. because I know they are more interested in the success of their clients than most other agencies, and place the business where they can get the best service for the money. We always give them the lowest rates and the choicest positions because they are developers of business and allies rather than parasites."

Publisher's Statement.—The eastern half of Kansas is a garden spot. The agricultural, mineral and live stock products for 1897 amounted to about $200 for every man, woman and child. The country around Lawrence is thickly populated and prosperous. The World with its daily and weekly editions thoroughly covers this ground. It has the greatest circulation and the large amount of advertising carried, proves its worth. Several thousand dollars worth of improved machinery and latest materials were added to the office in 1898. Address The World Co., Lawrence, Kan.

Publisher's Statement.—The Daily Republican is a money-pulling medium among the seven thousand people of Newton, a busy, prosperous railroad town in which one of the three railroads pay out monthly over $60,000 in salaries. The Daily is read and sworn by in nearly every family in the city. The Weekly Republican is always twelve pages, all home print and very newsy; is the official paper of the county; has the largest circulation. Rates reasonable. Advantageous contracts can be made to include The Kansas Volksblatt, the foremost German paper in Kansas. Others make these papers pay big, why not you?

KENTUCKY.

Capital, Frankfort. Settled at Harrodsburg by Virginians in 1774. Population, 1,855,436. Area, 40400 sq. miles. No state debt. Vote in 1896: Rep. 218,171; Dem. 217,890; Gold Dem. 5019; Pro. 4781.

Kentucky is bounded on the north by Missouri, Illinois, Indiana and Ohio; on the east by West Virginia and Virginia; on the south by Tennessee and west by Missouri. Eastern Kentucky is underlaid by coal fields and bears great forests of white oak, ash, hickory, chestnut, hemlock and yellow pine; in the northern part of the state is the famous Blue Grass country and in the southwest are 10000 square miles of fertile country, with many great caves underneath. The largest and most famous of the these is the Mammoth cave on Green river, with its 200 miles of avenues, its vast chambers and silent river, with its eyeless fish. The state has a splendid river system, including the Mississippi and the Ohio and branches. Over 2,000,000 tons of freight go up and down the Ohio every year. A great number and variety of mineral springs are scattered over the state and they have thousands of visitors. Agriculture is the leading industry of Kentucky and the state takes first rank in the raising of hemp, flax and tobacco. Of the latter, this state raises two-thirds of the total American product, which is nearly one-fourth of all the tobacco raised in the world. The Farmers' Tobacco Exchange in Louisville sells nearly 30,000,000 pounds annually. Large crops of wheat, corn, oats, hay and cotton are also raised in the state. "The Bluegrass" raises some of the best blooded horses in the world. From Lexington blooded horses are sent everywhere. Here and at Ashland and other towns on the Bluegrass are fine country estates, with great stock farms. The state has 400,000 horses, 1,000,000 cattle, over 1,000,000 sheep and over 2,000,000 hogs. The Apalachian coal fields in the east cover 9000 square miles, the fields in the southeast 1600, the western fields nearly 4000 and 2,000,000 tons of coal a year are taken out. Eighteen furnaces turn out 50,000,000 tons of pig iron a year. Oils, natural gas, lithographic stone, marble, sandstone, glass sand, clays, lead, zinc, limestone, gypsum and saltpetre are also among Kentucky's mineral resources. There are 5000 firms engaged in manufacturing and the annual product amounts to $3,000,000. The manufactures include flour, lumber, iron, steel, agricultural implements, carriages, meat products, leather, cement and whisky. The state has 119 counties and newspapers are published in 104. The principal cities are: Louisville, Covington, Newport, Lexington, Paducah, Maysville, Owensboro, Henderson, Frankfort and Bowling Green.

In making up lists for use in the State of Kentucky, advertisers should not fail to make use of the following Newspapers, which are reliable in every sense of the word and of proven advertising worth. In their advertisement further on in this volume specific information is given concerning each one. As the authorized representative of each of the papers recommended we shall be glad to furnish all information and to receive advertising orders for them.

SHORT cuts are good when we are familiar with them, but otherwise dangerous. The short cut to success in business is to advertise; but the inexperienced often find it leads to failure. As with any other business, that of advertising takes years of patient study to master. It is therefore impossible for the busy merchant to give the matter the necessary time and attention. TENNESSEE.

Capital, Nashville. Settled at Fort Loudon by North Carolinans in 1765. Population, 1,763,723. Area, 42050 sq. miles. Acres of farm land, 20,666,915. Value of farm land, $206,749,837. Annual value of farm products, $62,070,311. State debt, $14,938,608. Vote in 1896: Dem. 163,651; Rep. 148,773; Pop. 4525; Pro. 3098; G. Dem. 1951.

Tennessee is bounded on the north by Kentucky and West Virginia; on the east by North Carolina; on the south by Georgia, Alabama and Mississippi and on the west by the Mississippi river, which separates it from Missouri and Arkansas. The surface gradually rises from the Mississippi to the mountains in the east, covered with valuable forests of pine, hemlock and other timber. The state is drained by the Mississippi, Tennessee and Cumberland and their tributaries. Tennessee annually produces of corn, 82,552,000 bushels; wheat, 11,626,000 bushels; oats, 5,960,000 bushels; tobacco, 36,368,395 pounds; cotton, 345,000 bales; potatoes, 2,500,000 bushels; hay, 321,070 tons; peanuts, 650,000 bushels; berries, 5,000,000 pounds; fruits, 7,000,000 pounds; spirits, 1,000,000 gallons. The state has 800,000 cattle, 480,000 horses and mules and nearly 2,000,000 hogs, together worth nearly $60,000,000. Tennessee annually produces 500,000 tons of iron ore, 2,000,000 tons of coal and large quantities of superior marble and limestone. Tennessee has $40,000,000 invested in manufactures, and produces $75,000,000 worth of goods annually. There are 23 cotton mills with 100,000 spindles, employing 2700 operators and using 33000 bales a year; 55 woolen mills; and 13 iron and steel plants, employing 5500 men. The annual production of flour amounts to $10,000,000, lumber $5,000,000 and leather $2,000,000. Over 3,000,000 gallons of cottonseed oil and 300,000 sacks of cottonseed meal and oil cake are annually produced. Tennessee has 96 counties and newspapers are published in 88 of them. The leading cities are: Nashville, Memphis, Chattanooga, Knoxville, Jackson, Clarksville and Columbia.

In making up lists for use in the State of Tennessee, advertisers should not fail to make use of the following Newspapers, which are reliable in every sense of the word and of proven advertising worth. In their advertisement further on in this volume specific information is given concerning each one. Pettingill & Co. place more business with the newspapers of New England than any other firm; have closer personal relations with them; are better acquainted with the relative value of them; and last, but not least, can quote the most favorable rates. Ability in writing—originality in designing—perspicacity in selecting papers—and careful attention to the details are some of the advantages offered.

LOUISVILLE*, 223,235; Jefferson, 238,598; 110m SW of Cincinnati, O., centre of Baltimore & Ohio Southwestern, Chesapeake & Ohio, Chicago, Indianapolis & Louisville, Big Four, Illinois Central, Louisville & Nashville, Louisville, Evansville & St. Louis, Louisville, Henderson & St. Louis, Pittsburg, Cincinnati, Chicago & St. Louis and Southern Rys.; on Ohio river, with six miles of river front and passenger and freight steamer connections with all important river ports in Mississippi valley. Advantageously located in the midst of inexhaustible stores of coal, all kinds of hard woods, building stone, pottery clay and a vast area of fine farming land. Louisville has trebled the number of her industries, number employed, capital invested and value of product in 15 years, till she has the largest cement mills in America, producing 2,000,000 barrels a year; leads the country in the production of whiskies, with an annual output of 8,000,000 gallons; has the largest plow plant in the world and the largest wagon plant, turning out a complete wagon every five minutes; ranks first in the production of oak tanned leather, with 12 tanneries turning out 500,000 oak tanned sides of sole, belting and harness leather and 170,000 sheepskins every year; produces 25,000,000 pounds plug tobacco, 9,000,000 yards Kentucky jeans and 60000 tons water and drain pipe annually. Louisville's industries have a combined capital of $38,083,495 and employ 28198 people. The leading establishments are: Allen-Bradley Co., Anderson & Nelson Distilleries Co., Applegate & Sons, J. M. Atherton & Co., John T. Barber & Co., J. T. S. Brown & Sons, Early Times Distillery Co., J. G. Mattingly & Co., Rosenfield Bros. & Co., distillers; Frank Fehr Brewing Co., Ohio Falls Oak Leather Co., Conrad Tanning Co., John Finzer & Co., tobacco manufacturers; Dennis Long & Co., pipe foundry; Ballard & Ballard Co., millers; Old Kentucky Woolen Mills Co., Falls City Jeans & Woolen Co., Eclipse Woolen Mills, Indiana Cotton Mills, Southwestern Agricultural Works, farming implements; B. F. Avery & Sons, plows; Kentucky Wagon Co., Barrett Mfg. Co., roofing supplies; Louisville Bridge & Iron Co. and Louisville Cement, Coffin, Cotton Mills and (pork and beef) Packing Co. Within a 300 mile radius, Louisville is the centre of 20,000,000 people, more than one-fourth of the entire population of the country and her annual wholesale trade aggregates millions. The farmers' tobacco warehouse is a splendid building, where 160,000 hogsheads of leaf tobacco, worth $15,000,000, are sold annually. This city is in the centre of one of the richest agricultural regions in America where, it is said, a greater variety of foods grow than around any other city in the world. The State University of Kentucky, Southern Baptist Theological Seminary, Masonic Widows' and Orphans' Home, Polytechnic Library and U. S. Marine Hospital are among Louisville's educational and charitable institutions. Has general offices Louisville & Nashville, Louisville, Evansville & St. Louis and Louisville, Henderson & St. Louis Rys. Electrics run to New Albany, Ind. The city is noteworthy for its fine broad streets, shaded with elm, linden, maple and locust trees, its park system covering 1100 acres and handsome public buildings; of the latter the new U. S. Custom House, costing $2,500,000 and the new railroad station are the most imposing. Val. $120,000,000. Express; Telegraph. American Nat. Bank. Galt House.

LOUISIANA.

Capital, Baton Rouge. Settled at Biloxi by Frenchmen in 1699. Population, 1,116,828. Area, 48720 sq. miles. Acres of farm land, 8,273,506; value of farm land, $58,989,117; annual value of farm products, $42,883,522. State debt, $12,513,214.92. Vote in 1896: Dem. 77175; Rep. 22037; Gold Dem. 1834.

Louisiana is bounded on the north by Arkansas and Mississippi; on the east by Mississippi; on the south by the Gulf of Mexico and on the west by Texas. The land slopes gradually from an elevation of about 500 feet in the north to sea level in the south, where the lowlands and swamps cover 20000 square miles. North of this lowland region there are 25000 square miles of upland prairies and forests. The Mississippi river flows along the eastern border and crosses the lower part of the state and with its branches and the smaller streams of the southwest, with their innumerable lagoons and bayous, the state has nearly 4000 miles of internal navigation, more than any other state in the Union. The bottom lands along these waters comprise nearly 5,000,000 acres of fertile soil and there is almost as large an area in the coast marsh. One half of the state is covered with forests of yellow pine and it is estimated they will cut 5,000,000,000 feet. There are also large and valuable forests of cypress, live oak, palmettoes and magnolias. Agriculture is the leading industry of the state. In the low regions rice and sugar cane are the great crops, while corn, cotton, oats and sweet potatoes are raised in the uplands further north. Live stock number 1,500,000 head, worth $24,000,000. Southern Louisiana grows figs, bananas, peaches, plums, quinces and other fruits and oranges are grown along the lower Mississippi. Extensive crops of early vegetables also are raised for the northern market. There are 50000 people on the rice plantations and the product sometimes reaches over 100,000,000 pounds a year. One-third of the cultivated ground is devoted to cotton. Half the people of the state are engaged in sugar raising and the annual product is 25,000,000 pounds. The manufactures include clothing, machinery, cottonseed oil, cigars, malt liquors, flour and meal, lumber and sugar. There are 59 parishes, in all of which newspapers are published. These number 217, ten being in French, three in German, one in Spanish and one in Italian. The principal towns are: New Orleans, Shreveport, Baton Rouge, Lake Charles, Plaquemine, Donaldsonville, Monroe, New Iberia, Natchitoches and Thibodeaux.

In making up lists for use in the State of Louisiana, advertisers should not fail to make use of the following Newspapers, which are reliable in every sense of the word and of proven advertising worth. In their advertisement further on in this volume specific information is given concerning each one. As the authorized representative of each of the papers recommended we shall be glad to furnish all information and to receive advertising orders for them.

NEW ORLEANS, ITEM.....144

IT is the most natural thing in the world for one who has not the special experience to judge lightly of its requirements, but if he were to recall the labor and time it has taken to become proficient in his own line, he would comprehend at a glance the importance of engaging experienced assistance in so important a department. For nearly fifty years we have been showing thousands of business men the recognized "short cut" to success by giving them the benefit of our experience in advertising. We have also been able, owing to our long connection with publishers, to offer exceptional terms. We are always on the alert, constantly infusing new blood into our business, and our ripened experience tells us instantly what to use, how to use it, and what to pay for it. There are many signs of improvement in finance and commerce, and now is the time to plan for the Fall and Winter campaign. Competition in business will be keener than ever, and the need of experience proportionately increased. We shall be pleased to have you consult us.

MAINE.

Capital, Augusta. Settled at Pemaquid by Englishmen in 1630. Population, 661,086. Area, 35000 sq. miles. Acres of farm land, 6,552,578; value of farm lands, $102,357,615; annual value of farm products, $21,945,489. State debt, $3,408,229.70. Vote in 1896: Rep. 80465; Dem. 32201; Pop. 2487; Gold Dem. 1870; Pro. 1570.

Maine, the northeastern state of New England and the Union, is bounded on the north and northwest by Quebec; on the east by New Brunswick; on the south and southwest by the Atlantic ocean and on the west by New Hampshire. The northern part is high and broken here and there by scattered ridges. Vast forests stretch across this northern part and an army of lumbermen find employment felling the trees and floating the logs down the St. John's, Penobscot, Kennebec and Androscoggin and smaller streams that drain the state, the former on the northeastern side and the others on the south. This region is the paradise of sportsmen from all parts of the country who take advantage of the abundance of deer, moose and other game and the great quantity of fish in the lakes and streams. The ground slopes gradually from the highland to the coast and considerable tracts of fertile farming and grazing lands are found in the river valleys. With a width of 270 miles along the coast, Maine, has actually, including the islands, 2500 miles of shore, everywhere bold, rocky and picturesque; hence the commercial progress of the state and her fame as a summer resort. On Mt. Desert, the largest of the islands is Bar Harbor, a summer resort of international repute. Penobscot, Frenchman's, Pleasant, Passamoquoddy, Machias, Muscongus, Casco and Saco are the principal bays. The largest lake is Moosehead, in a famous summer resort region; others are the Rangeleys, well known as a fishing ground and the Grand lakes. Of Maine's many industries the most important are agriculture, manufacturing, lumbering, fish canning, fruit and vegetable canning, ship building, brick and tile making, printing and publishing, quarrying and stone work, ice cutting and the coast trade. The manufactures include the cotton goods of Lewiston, Biddeford, Augusta, Waterville, Brunswick, Auburn, Lisbon and Saco; the woolens of Lewiston, Lisbon, Pittsfield, Camden, Bridgeton and a score of smaller towns; the boots and shoes of Lewiston, Ellsworth, Hallowell, Calais and others, leather, paper, wood pulp, spools, woodenware, foundry and machine products, leather board and various others of less importance. Immense quantities of lime are quarried and burned at Rockland. Hallowell and Red Beach (Robinson) granite are famous. Eastport, Lubeck, Machias, Cutler and Boothbay do an immense business in the catching and packing of fish (sardines, mackerel and lobsters). Hay and grain are raised in considerable quantities in all the fertile river valleys, and the raising of potatoes has grown to be an industry of immense proportions in the valley of the Aroostook, with Caribou and Houlton as shipping points. The state annually produces 8,000,000 bushels of potatoes, 2,800,000 bushels of oats, 1,000,000 bushels of corn, 1,300,000 tons of hay, 2,800,000 pounds of wool and 1,400,000 pounds of butter. There are extensive shipyards at Bath. Here were built the gun boats Machias and Castine, the ram Katahdin, and a number of torpedo boats are under construction. With such an extensive coast line and so many excellent harbors it goes without saying that the coasting and foreign trade is enormous. There are 16 counties in Maine and newspapers are published in all. The principal cities and towns are: Portland, Lewiston, Bangor, Biddeford, Auburn, Bath, Rockland, Waterville and Calais.

In making up lists for use in the State of Maine, advertisers should not fail to make use of the following Newspapers, which are reliable in every sense of the word and of proven adververtising worth. In their advertisement further on in this volume specific information is given concerning each one. As the authorized representative of each of the papers recommended we shall beglad to furnish all information and to receive advertising orders for them.

Pettingill & Co. place more business with the newspapers of New England than any other firm; have closer personal relations with them; are better acquainted with the relative value of them; and last, but not least, can quote the most favorable rates. Ability in writing—originality in designing—perspicacity in selecting papers—and careful attention to the details are some of the advantages offered.

Trolley to Towson, Catonsville, Brooklyn, Mt. Washington, Pikesville, Gardenville and surrounding towns. Baltimore has a fine harbor on Chesapeake bay, with passenger and freight steamer lines to leading Atlantic and Gulf ports and 12 lines to foreign countries; is a leading shipping point for grain, oil, meat products and iron goods. Baltimore takes first place among American cities in the production of tobacco; ranks second only to New York in shipments of grain and excels that city in the export of corn; and leads the world in the canning business, using 100,000,000 cans a year and in the oyster fisheries employing thousands of people and 5000 to 8000 vessels. The leading exports are: (annually) corn, 1,206,255 tons; wheat, 578,086 tons; flour, 236,741 tons; mineral oils, 116,119 tons; and iron and its manufactures, 87587 tons. Baltimore is an important wholesale jobbing centre for the southern states, with an annual trade of over $100,000,000. Here are 5500 manufactories, with a capital of $100,000,000, employing 85000 people, with a monthly pay roll of $3,000,000 and an annual product worth $150,000,000. The city annually produces tobacco worth $30,000,000; canned goods, $25,000,000; shoes and leather, $23,000,000; clothing, $21,000,000; iron goods, $20,000,000; cotton and duck goods, $16,000,000; tinware, $10,000,000; lumber, $8,000,000; whiskey and beer, $7,000,000; straw goods, $5,000,000; textile goods, $5,000,000; glass, $1,000,000. Baltimore is the greatest centre of medical schools in America and the seat of Johns Hopkins University, the most advanced post graduate school in the country; Woman's College, Loyola College, Maryland College of Pharmacy, College of Physicians & Surgeons, Baltimore College of Dental Surgery, the oldest in the world; Baltimore Medical College, State Normal School, Maryland School for the Blind, Maryland Institute, Peabody Institute, St. Mary's Industrial School, St. Mary's Seminary of St. Sulpice, the oldest Catholic theological school in the United States and Bryn Mawr School. Baltimore is famous for her charitable institutions of which the most important are: The Home of the Friendless, Boys' Home, Home for Aged Men and Women, Church Home and Infirmary, Home for Incurables, Home for Aged Germans, St. Vincent Infant Asylum, German Orphan Asylum, Hebrew Orphan Asylum, Samuel Ready Asylum for Girls, Union Protestant Infirmary and Johns Hopkins, University, City, Maryland General and Hebrew Hospitals. There is a splendid park system 1200 acres, including the world famous Druid Hill Park, Carroll Park, with the historic residence of Charles Carroll, the barrister, built in 1765; Homewood Park, Patterson Park, with its observatory; Eutaw Place, Mt. Vernon Place, with the famous Barye bronzes; Broadway and Lafayette, Harlem, Franklin, Union, Madison and Federal Hill squares. Among the city's handsome buildings may be mentioned the Roman Catholic Cathedral, Masonic and Odd Fellows' temples, New Court House, Post Office, Chamber of Commerce, City Hall, State Normal School, University Hospital, Music Hall, Oheb Shalom Synagogue, Associate Reform Club, Music Hall; Baltimore, Phœnix and Maryland clubs; Mount Royal station, Brewers' Exchange, Merchants' National, Farmers' & Planters' and Drovers' & Mechanics' National Banks; Fidelity, Law, Equitable, Woman's College, Mercantile Trust & Deposit Co. and University Hospital buildings. Baltimore is often called the "Monumental City." Among the most famous are the Washington, Ridgely, Wilde, Taney and Battle monuments. Other points of interest are: Fort McHenry, Cardinal Gibbons's residence, the historic Front Street Theatre and the graves of Booth, Poe and Reinhardt. Val. $278,249,691. Express; Telegraph. Publisher's Statement.—The Morning Herald is the only daily Republican paper in Washington county and is the first Republican paper in the state of Maryland west of Baltimore. Its circulation is increasing daily and the management of its affairs is in the hands of active young newspaper men. From this reason it is the best advertising medium in the county and one of the best in Western Maryland. The Herald and Torchlight, weekly, on account of having been established for nearly a century is circulating throughout the country in households where it has been read for generations, and its advertisements are read closely each week by hundreds of thrifty well-to-do farmers and others.

MASSACHUSETTS.

Capital, Boston. Settled at Plymouth by Englishmen in 1620. Population, 2,238,943. Area, 8040 sq. miles. Acres of farm land, 3,898,429; value of farm lands, $111,000,000. State debt, $27,511,158. Vote in 1896: Rep. 278,976; Dem. 90530; Pop. 15181; Gold Dem. 11749; Pro. 2998; Social Labor, 2114.

Massachusetts is bounded on the north by New Hampshire and Vermont; on the east by the Atlantic ocean; on the south by the Atlantic ocean, Rhode Island and Connecticut; and on the west by New York. Though there are no high mountains in the Bay state nearly its entire area is hilly and broken. The region of the Berkshires, in the western part of the state, extending to the New York border and culminating in Greylock (3535 feet), is the highest part of the state, and has become the summer home of many of the wealthiest families in the country who have built splendid country places at Williamstown, Lenox and Stockbridge. The central part of the state is drained by the Connecticut river, which crosses the state north and south and by a number of its branches. The western part is drained by the Hoosick and Housatonic rivers; and the eastern by the Merrimack and numerous short streams. The natural attractiveness of many localities is much enhanced by generous public parks and pleasure grounds such as Boston's Back Bay Fens, Lynn's Public Forest, Springfield's Forest Park, the parks of Worcester, New Bedford, Cambridge and the Newburyport Mall and many others. Massachusetts is pre-eminently a manufacturing state. There are 24000 firms having a capital of $500,000,000, employing 420,000 operatives, and every year paying $150,000,000 in wages and producing goods worth $675,000,000. The manufactures comprise the cotton goods of Fall River, Lowell and New Bedford; the woolens of Lowell, Holyoke and silks of Northampton; the shoes of Brockton, Lynn, Haverhill, Salem and Beverly; the carpets of Clinton and Lowell; wire goods of Worcester; plows of North Easton; watches of Waltham: sewing machines of Orange; bicycles of Chicopee Falls, Springfield, Westboro, Worcester and Westfield; electric supplies of Lynn; small arms of Springfield; silverware of Taunton: jewelry of Attleboro: cutlery of Turner's Falls; whips and cigars of Westfield; carriages of Amesbury and Newburyport; chairs of Gardner; rattan goods of Wakefield; and many others of minor importance. The quarrying and finishing of granite is an important industry in Massachusetts and centres around Gloucester and Quincy. The Cape Ann granite company, near Gloucester employs 500 to 700 men, and has furnished stone for many famous buildings. Agriculture is of comparatively little importance in this state and is confined to a great extent to market gardening and small fruits. Tobacco is cultivated along the banks of the Connecticut river and an annual crop of over 4,000,000 pounds is raised. Apples are grown throughout the state, with an annual product of 4,500,000 bushels. Four million quarts of strawberries are raised in the market gardens in the eastern part of the state. The cranberry bogs of Cape Cod are famous the country over and 3,000,000 bushels are picked every year. There are 14 counties in Massachusetts and newspapers are published in all. The leading cities and towns are: Boston, Worcester, Lowell, Fall River, Cambridge, Lynn, Lawrence, Springfield, New Bedford and Somerville.

In making up lists for use in the State of Massachusetts, advertisers should not fail to make use of the following Newspapers, which are reliable in every sense of the word and of proven advertising worth. In their advertisement further on in this volume specific information is given concerning each one. As the authorized representative of each of the papers recommended we shall be glad to furnish all information and to receive advertising orders for them.

BOSTON, (state capital) 496,920; Suffolk, 539,799; terminus Fitchburg, Boston & Albany, New England, four divisions B. & M. and Old Colony and New Haven systems N. Y., N. H. & H. Rys. Includes Allston, Boylston, Brighton, Cedar Grove, Charlestown, Dorchester, East Boston, Forest Hills, Harrison Square, Jamaica Plain, Mattapan, Milton Lower Mills, Mt. Bowdoin, Mt. Hope, Roslindale, Roxbury, Savin Hill and South Boston, as well as Crescent Hill, Dudley St. and Harvard St. stations. Situated on Massachusetts bay. Has fine harbor with 60 square miles of anchorage; has nine steamer lines to Europe and lines to all Atlantic coast points. There are 7915 manufacturing establishments, with a capital of $116,644,490, 90198 employees, a pay roll of $54,636,695 a year and an annual product of $208,104,683. Boston is the metropolis of New England, the second commercial city and the leading wool, shoe and leather city in the country and the retail trade centre for 2,000,000 people. Has elevated, subway and surface lines of electrics in the city and suburban trolley lines in every direction. The city is the seat of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, Boston University, State College of Pharmacy, Chauncey Hall school and a number of the professional schools of Harvard University. Boston is justly famous for her Copley Square, Commonwealth avenue and park system, each the finest of its kind in America. The Museum of Fine Arts and Trinity (Episcopal) Church (Phillips Brooks's Church), designed by the great Richardson, the New Public Library and New Old South Church, all unsurpassed in the world's architecture, face on Copley Square. The park system includes the famous Boston Common, Public Garden, Charles River Drive and Back Bay fens with its miles of macadamized streets—wheelmen's paradise. It has cost nearly $10,000,000 and is the admiration of the landscape gardeners of both hemispheres. The resident population is constantly augmented by thousands of visitors who come to see the numerous points of historic interest, such as Bunker Hill Monument, Old South Church, Old North Church, where the lantern gleamed for Paul Revere, the old State House, Faneuil Hall, the cradle of liberty, the wharf where was held the "Boston Tea party" and the cemetery where Hancock, Adams and other heroes rest. The clearing house business amounts to $5,000,000,000 and is second only to that of New York in magnitude. There are 61 National banks with a capital of $530,000,000, 15 Savings and 10 Co-operative banks and 10 Trust companies. Express; Telegraph. Principal bank, Mechanics' National Bank, Cap. $250,000, S. A. Merrill, Cash. Hotel Touraine.

Publisher's Statement.—For 25 years the Chronicle has devoted its energies solely to the interests of Brookline and Brooklinians. It is clean and newsy, and follows closely the affairs of the municipal government and is constantly in touch with the daily life of the town. Enlarged to 16 pages Jan. 1, 1899, and price reduced to $2.00 per year. Robert C. Winthrop characterized Brookline as "pre-eminent in the little cordon of towns which have so long constituted the exquisite environs of Boston." Advertisers who desire to cover this town can do it in no way so effectually as through The Chronicle.

Citizen—Morning; Non-partisan; Est. '54; 8p 17×24; Sub. $3. Courier-Citizen Co. Circ..§7561

Publisher's Statement.—The Citizen is a wide-awake, progressive newspaper, with a larger paid circulation in Lowell and the surrounding towns than any other paper. Its circulation is stated honestly to the advertiser, and gives to its patrons a high class service. Advertisements in the Citizen make money for Citizen advertisers. Ask Pettingill & Co.

Courier—Evening; Rep; Est. '40; 8p 17×24; Sub. $6. Courier-Citizen Co. Circ.....¼3250

Publisher's Statement.—The Courier is the evening family newspaper of Lowell. It is the longest established daily paper in Middlesex county; is clean, reliable and enterprising. It has the confidence of a large conservative constituency, and for advertising high grade goods it is especially attractive, as it reaches the people of Lowell who buy good goods.

Journal (weekly edition of Courier)—Friday; Rep; Est. '24; 8p 17×24; Sub. $1.50. Courier-Citizen Co. Circ.....¼2800

Publisher's Statement.—The Journal, through its special correspondents in all the towns of this section of the state, maintains a close relationship with the people of this fine farming district. It is preeminently the home weekly of these people, giving them the news of their own neighborhoods, and has their patronage to a greater extent than all other publications. Its value to general advertisers is unequalled in this field.

MICHIGAN.

Capital, Lansing. Settled at Detroit by Frenchmen in 1670. Population, 2,093,889. Area, 58915 sq. miles. Acres of farm land, 13,869,221; value of farm land, $449,103,111; annual value of farm products, $91,159,858. State debt, $4,148,723.68. Vote in 1896: Rep. 273,582; Dem. 236,714; G. Dem. 6879; Pro. 5025; Nat. 1995.

Michigan consists of two peninsulas. The upper peninsula is bounded on the north by Lake Superior; on the east by Lake Huron; on the south by Lake Michigan; and on the southwest by Wisconsin. The lower peninsula is bounded on the north by Lake Huron; on the east by Lakes Huron and St. Clair; on the south by Ohio and Indiana; and on the west by Lake Michigan. The state has 1624 miles of coast line and has a greater volume of shipping than any other western state, with 400 steamboats aggregating a tonnage of 150,000. It has the most important fresh water fisheries in the Union, employing 1700 men, whose annual catch is over 17,000,000 pounds. One half of these are white fish and most of the valuable fresh water fish are included in the remainder. To prevent too serious a drain on the fisheries, the government has planted more than 100,000,000 young fish in Michigan waters. The hatcheries are at Detroit, Northville and other towns. The fisheries are for the most part on the south shore of the northern peninsula and on Monitou Island. The lower peninsula is a land of plains and knolls, with a large number of short streams flowing into the lakes. The lakes of northern Michigan are well supplied with fish and are much visited by sportsmen. Agriculture occupies an important place among the state's industries. Immense crops of cereals and hay are produced. Michigan produces apples and other small fruits in immense quantities and of a quality unsurpassed. Over 2000 acres around Kalamazoo are devoted to celery and the product is said to be the best in the world. The state has over 1,000,000 head of live stock and 2,000,000 sheep. The annual wool clip amounts to $12,000,000. The state's apiaries annually furnish 750,000 pounds of honey. The salt industry, centering around Saginaw bay, yields more than 4,000,000 barrels a year. Nearly 7000 square miles of Michigan are underlaid with coal beds. Large quantities of land plaster and stucco are made and there are large quantities of white marble, freestone, slate, limestone, fire clay and glass sand. There are valuable mineral springs in the state and many have fine hotels and bottling establishments. In lumbering Michigan takes first rank. There are hardwood forests along the rivers and countless acres of pines in the north. There are 1000 mills, employing 35000 men, who turn out lumber to the amount of $60,000,000 annually. Besides sawed lumber, great quantities of cord wood, cedar posts and hemlock bark are produced. In the production of iron the state has no superior in the country, as regards quantity or quality. The annual product of iron reaches 9,000,000 tons. The copper mines are very rich and employ 6000 men, with an annual product of 40,000,000 tons. Gold, silver and other minerals are found in considerable amounts. The manufactures of the state embrace 9000 factories, with 80000 operatives and an annual output of $150,000,000. They include furniture, iron and steel goods, flour, ships, cars, silk goods, chemicals and others of minor importance. There are 83 counties and newspapers are published in 82. The principal cities are: Detroit, Grand Rapids, Saginaw, Bay City, Muskegon, Jackson, Kalamazoo, Port Huron, Battle Creek and Lansing.

In making up lists for use in the State of Michigan, advertisers should not fail to make use of the following Newspapers, which are reliable in every sense of the word and of proven advertising worth. In their advertisement further on in this volume specific information is given concerning each one. As the authorized representative of each of the papers recommended we shall be glad to furnish all information and to receive advertising orders for them.

WISCONSIN.

Capital, Madison. Settled at La Pointe by Frenchmen in 1665. Population, 1,686,880. Area, 56040 sq. miles. Acres of farm land, 15,353,118; value of farm land, $357,709,507; annual value of farm products, $72,779,496. No state debt. Vote in 1896: Rep. 268,135; Dem. 165,523; Pro. 7509; G. Dem. 4584; Nat. 346.

Wisconsin is bounded on the northeast by Lake Superior, Michigan and Lake Michigan; on the east by Lake Michigan; on the south by Illinois and on the west by Minnesota and the Mississippi river, which separates it from southern Minnesota. The eastern portion of the state is drained by the numerous small streams flowing into Lake Michigan, the central and western portions by the Wisconsin and Chippewa, tributaries of the mighty Mississippi. The farms of Wisconsin produce annually 43,000,000 bushels of oats, 38,000,000 bushels of corn, 21,000,000 bushels of wheat, 12,000,000 bushels of barley, 12,000,000 bushels of potatoes, 1,700,000 bushels of apples, 2,300,000 tons of hay and 30,000,000 pounds of tobacco. The state has 1,200,000 head of cattle, 400,000 horses, 900,000 sheep and 800,000 swine, valued altogether at $80,000,000. The dairies turn out 36,000,000 pounds of butter and 33,000,000 pounds of cheese a year. The mines of the Lake Superior region annually turn out 800,000 tons of iron ore. The state also produces 50,000,000 brick and 500,000 barrels of quick lime every year. Wisconsin's factories number over 10000, with an annual product of over $150,000,000. "Forests still cover nearly half of Wisconsin, whose exports of lumber are only excelled by Michigan and Pennsylvania. The pineries are a source of great wealth, because of the unceasing demand for lumber from the prairie states; and $27,000,000 worth of lumber, lath and shingles are made here yearly by 30000 men. The Wisconsin forests have developed an enormous value and now produce nearly 3,000,000,000 feet of lumber, over 1,300,000,000 laths and shingles, 60,000,000 staves and 8,000,000 sets of headings every year. Newspapers are published in all the 70 counties in Wisconsin. The leading cities are: Milwaukee, La Crosse, Oshkosh, Racine, Eau Claire, Sheboygan, Madison, Fond du Lac, Superior and Appleton.

In making up lists for use in the State of Wisconsin, advertisers should not fail to make use of the following Newspapers, which are reliable in every sense of the word and of proven advertising worth. In their advertisement further on in this volume specific information is given concerning each one. As the authorized representative of each of the papers recommended we shall be glad to furnish all information and to receive advertising orders for them.

Publisher's Statement.—The Democrat (daily, evening and weekly) occupy a leading position in Bay City journalism, and advertisers intending to cover this territory will, upon investigation, find the Democrat an indispensable factor. Its circulation is clean and its rates are low for service rendered. If you go into Michigan you should go into Bay City and the Daily and Weekly Democrat. Make no errors on this—look up the Democrat before deciding on your Bay City papers.

Publisher's Statement.—This combination of newspapers reaches all branches of trade in this go-ahead section of Michigan which is now attracting so much attention on the outside on account of its three new sugar factories, and three new chicory mills, which have moved here from New York city. The circulation of these papers is increasing rapidly, keeping pace with the field which they so thoroughly cover. Home merchants have planted advertisements in their columns and have been rewarded with bountiful crops of patronage. All classes of the reading public in city, county and district are reached by them. They are wide-awake representatives of the most prosperous section of the state. Parties desiring to work the northern portion of Michigan will find it to their interest to patronize this trio.

Publisher's Statement.—The best, most reliable and responsible daily paper in Flint is the Daily News, with a circulation more than double that of the other daily in the city. The circulation is going upwards steadily and surely and for 1898 it had daily average of 1728 copies and ended up the year with only a half dozen less than 1800. This is an unprecedented list in a city of 12000 when it is taken into consideration that there are no suburban towns for circulation to reach. The paper reaches all classes, as it must in order to reach the circulation it has. No pains or money has been spared to give its readers all the news, all the time, and they have appreciated our efforts by subscribing for the News. Our weekly, The Genesee Democrat, has double the circulation of any other weekly in the county.

"Furniture manufacturing—the leading industry—employs, in 36 of the largest factories, over $7,500,000 capital. Their annual output is over $8,500,000 and they pay yearly more than $3,000,000 to 7000 employes. Surrounded by the well developed farming country of Michigan, capable of growing cereals with greater profit per acre than in any other state and where the finest fruits in choicest varieties attain a perfection for which western Michigan is especially noted, the trade from smaller cities and towns, of which Grand Rapids is the metropolis, is reliable and permanent." The city's charitable institutions include the Michigan State Soldiers' Home, Butterworth Home, Union Benovolent Home, Masonic Home and the Catholic Home. Eight building and loan associations, with 2400 members and $600,000 capital, receive over $300,000 annually with which to assist the wage workers to build and pay for homes. Lincoln, Crescent, Fulton Street, Highland, North Reed's Lake and John Ball parks give the city a splendid system of pleasure grounds. Among the city's many handsome buildings may be mentioned the City Hall, St. Cecilia and Peninsular club houses, Briggs and Blodgett blocks, Pythian Temple, High School and County, Federal, Police, Y. M. C. A. and Widdicomb buildings, Reform and Universalist churches. Val. $19,175,000. Express; Telegraph. Old Nat. Bank. Livingston Hotel.
